STAN SMITH NEW MANAGER FOR ARENA

The new manager for the Newmarket Memorial arena is Stan Smith who was appointed by the arena commission Tuesday night. Mr. Smith replaces Percy Hutchinson who has been manager for the past year. Mr. Hutchinson who started his duties when artificial ice was installed last fall recently gave his resignation to the commission.

Several applications were made for the position after the commission advertised for an arena manager. Mr. Smith will assume his official duties on Monday, October 9.

Chairman of the arena commission, W. J. Geer, has not mentioned a definite date for the official opening for ice this fall but it is expected to be near October 15. There has been a delay on a new motor to drive the artificial ice equipment because of the hydro frequency changeover.

It has been announced that the commission has let a contract for immediate action on a new lighting system which will be a marked improvement in the building. In place of three rows of 21 lights over the ice surface, there will be four rows, 36 lights in all.

Aurora opens tenders For sewer project

At a special meeting of Aurora Town Council Monday night tenders were opened for the sewers, water, and grading on Dunning Ave., Royal Road, and Cameron Ave. The contract was awarded to Marino Construction Company, Toronto, the job to be completed at a cost of $14,744.75.

Work will start at once on the high school; a temporary system of obtaining water has been worked out by the engineer representing the architects. Construction could not be started without a water supply and work on the new building has been held up because of a technical reason when the construction by-law was held up.

New T.T.C. subway Described to Lions

The construction of the subway in Toronto was described to the Newmarket Lions club on Monday night by Paul Baker of the rapid transit department of the Toronto Transportation Commission. He showed how the demand had grown for street car transportation in Toronto and described the efforts of the commission to keep abreast with the volume.

Slides were shown which illustrated the development of Toronto and the actual work of subway construction. He was introduced by John Hines and thanked by James Sleight.

SAIL FOR ENGLAND

Captain J. M. Seldon, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Seldon, Newmarket, sailed with his family from Quebec for England aboard the Empress of Scotland on Friday. He is one of five Canadian army officers chosen to take technical staff course of two years at the Royal Military College of Science at Shrivenham, north of London.

Veterans' Association Hopes To Renovate Barn For Hall

The Newmarket Veterans' Association has asked the town council for a building behind the Health Unit headquarters to be used as a meeting hall. Representatives of the veterans' organization presented plans to council for the renovation of a barn behind the Webb property on Main St. to provide a hall for the Vets' use as well as for other organizations in town.

Albert Linden told council that building material could be acquired at cost price and that much of the work would be voluntary. He asked that council consider a reasonable arrangement for leasing the building over a long period. The Veterans' meeting place at present, the "Veterans' Dug-out", is a small building on the north west corner of Millard Ave. and Main St.

The Veterans said that they would put a 15' extension on the west side of the building, recover the sides, build a stairway into the basement and install a kitchen and washrooms. The building, they said, would make an excellent hall in a central part of town.

RECORD DEBENTURE ISSUES

The mayor and clerk sign municipal debentures worth $369,000 during the largest debenture issue in the history of Newmarket. It took Mayor Vale, right, and Wesley Brooks, the town treasurer shown on the left, over three hours last week to sign their names over 400 times. Values of the debentures varied. For the debenture on the new Prince Charles school alone, over 163 signatures had to be made.

Commuters complain Time belts confusing 'em

The confusion caused by Newmarket reverting to standard time while Toronto and Aurora remained on daylight saving time was the main topic of conversation in town this week. Closely rivaling it was smoke. The skies were blotted out and the sun appeared as a green or mauve ball as smoke from Alberta bush fires poured across this section of Ontario.

In the Newmarket council chambers, a smoke prevention by-law was left unread but it is highly doubtful whether its passage could have prevented the strange effects in the heavens in the early part of the week.

At the Newmarket council meeting on Monday night, discussion centred mostly about complaints which had been received since Newmarket decided to return to standard time. One difficulty which has arisen is over bus schedules which remain on daylight saving time and are a source of inconvenience to those residents who commute to Aurora or Toronto.

The decision in favor of standard time was made last week after the mayor was authorized to contact industry and set the time according to their needs.

The Newmarket high school anticipated some difficulty because the Gray Coach Lines bring many pupils in from the country and the service was remaining on daylight saving time. However, a special bus was put on the road to bring in the pupils at the usual time.

Although the smoke from Alberta was the cause of some unusual effects in the skies, it did not turn the attention of councillors to the draft of smoke prevention by-law which had been brought in earlier following a council resolution.

The by-law would make it illegal to permit the emission of dense smoke for more than six minutes in any one hour of the day. The by-law does not apply to dwellings but does effect apartment houses, factories and commercial premises.

The by-law would be enforced, it is expected, by the York County Health Unit. It is believed that it will be brought council next week.

Six applications open For exhibition space At next year's trade fair

There are six spaces in the centre of the arena still available for the Newmarket Trade Fair next year, Eugene McCaffrey, chairman of the trade fair executive announced this week. The spaces are 10' x 11'. Exhibitors who wish to exhibit in 1951 are advised to contact Mr. McCaffrey as soon as possible as demand for exhibition space is strong.

The executive of Ang West, Alex Eves, Bill Warden, and Bill Dyer met last Thursday to consider plans for next year's fair. It was decided that it should run for four evenings, from Wednesday to Saturday.

The executive also received an offer to assist from the Newmarket branch of the Women's Institute. There was discussion of the possibility of an arts and crafts exhibition for the first two days of the fair, to be followed by the annual horticultural society show for the last two days.

500 attend Jrs. dance Proceeds aid flood fund

The York County Junior Farmers' Association fall dance at Cedar Beach Gardens, Musselman's Lake, was attended by 500 on Saturday night in spite of the fright weather.

After a rollicking square dance the weather seemed to turn milder.

Ten-year-old Elizabeth Buchanan, 35 Metcalfe St., Aurora, was the winner of the registered Holstein heifer calf donated by Geo. W. Henry, Oriole Lodge Farm, Todmorden, and Jos. Darlington, Holstein county salesman, also of Todmorden. Agri-cultural representative W. M. Cockburn, Newmarket, called on Mrs. Geo. Henry to draw the winning ticket to decide the future home of the calf, "Oriole Lodge (Marion) Texal". Elizabeth bought her ticket from her cousin, Nelson Buchanan, of the Victoria Square Junior Farmers' club.

The executive expects to be able to forward about $150 from the dance to the Ontario Junior Farmers' Winnipeg Flood Fund.

NAVY LEAGUE TAG

Mrs. M. B. Seldon will convene the annual Navy League tag day on Saturday in Newmarket. Proceeds of the tag support the league's service work among ratings of the Royal Canadian Navy and the merchant marine.

ANNEXATION

Yonge St. possible West town limits If councils agree

Annexation of land west of Newmarket toward Yonge St. by Newmarket was discussed by Whitechurch and Newmarket councillors last week. At a meeting last Thursday of two committees, one from each township, it was suggested that both municipal councils get together with their assessors and discuss the advisability of such a move. Incorporation of the land between Davis Dr. and Eagle St. to Yonge St. has been proposed.

The Whitechurch committee was authorized by its council to suggest a survey straight line between Davis Dr. and Eagle St. to mark Newmarket's western limits. They agreed to a line taking in Armitage Heights, the extended Park Ave. subdivision and the new subdivision on Crossland Farms.

The Newmarket committee of which Reeve A. D. Evans is chairman pointed out that making a survey would involve an expense and that costs could be eliminated by taking Yonge St. as the western border. The joint committee found agreement on the proposal but it is still to be presented to the municipal councils.

A proposal for a joint meeting of the two councils with assessors has not been officially presented to Newmarket council. It is expected to be given next Monday.

From Whitechurch it has been pointed out that it would be better if the township were to relinquish the land now than ten years from now. If the area were given up by the township when it had become built-up, it would mean a drop in the township assessment whereas it would mean little change in assessment now.

Annexation of the land is favorable to subdivision property owners building out of Newmarket as it facilitates the establishment of municipal services to them. Mayor Vale said recently that the purpose of setting up the committee was to try to end haphazard extensions to the corporation limits and fix a straight line as a town boundary.

Optometrist to open Newmarket office In clinic building

William Arthur "Art" Hurst, Registered Optometrist, will open his office in the Newmarket Clinic Building on October 2. Mr. Hurst is a graduate of the College of Optometry at the University of Toronto, and has practised in Toronto and Sutton for the last two years.

While in Sutton, he was examining optometrist for the Kinsmen Club eyesight project.

Born in Carmichael, Sask., he was educated there and at Moosejaw Normal school from which he graduated into teaching. He taught five years in Saskatchewan, two years in public and three years in high school.

He joined the R.C.A.F. in 1941 and served for four years as a gunnery and sighting instructor. After his discharge from the R.C.A.F., he enrolled in the College of Optometry, and graduated in 1948. He is married and has three children, the youngest born September 19. He is a member of the United Church.

Mr. Hurst had been an active athlete in his younger days, playing senior hockey and baseball. At present, he is coaching a church basketball team in Toronto.

Recreation Commission Continues craft classes

The Aurora Recreation Commission Thursday night decided to continue craft classes again this winter. An effort will be made to enlist the interest of all the churches.

The children's classes have grown to such an extent that it is difficult to find accommodation large enough to facilitate teaching. The commission is pleased with the response to the effort it has made to provide playground activities, swimming, hockey, and crafts but needs help if the work is to continue.

WILKIE FUND

The "Wilkie Fund" was again increased Friday night when Aurora Volunteer Firemen sponsored a dance at Glendale, Musselman's Lake.

Beloved by all Silas Armitage Dies in 101st year

Silas Armitage, who celebrated his 100th birthday last February, died shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. One of the most familiar personalities in Newmarket, Silas Armitage was born on the family farm at the corner of Eagle and Yonge Sts. where his great-grandfather first settled in 1801. He died at 43 Gorham St.

Mr. Armitage farmed for many years at Eagle and Yonge Sts. until he was appointed superintendent of the York County Home. In 1919 he retired and moved to Newmarket where he lived at 21 Timothy St.

A sale of the Armitage residence and household effects at Timothy St. was announced last week for Saturday and Mr. Armitage has been staying at the home of a relative, Mrs. Hattie Gibney, 43 Gorham St., for the past three months. Lately his health had been poor.

On his last birthday when he became a Newmarket centenarian, an official party representing the town of Newmarket paid tribute to him. He received telegrams from the King and Queen and Prime Ministers St. Laurent and Frost. Over 100 friends and relatives came to show respects for the "Grand Old Man" of Newmarket. He had become as much a part of the town as his name.

One of the tributes the town has paid to this personality was the naming of a new subdivision on Eagle St., Armitage Heights. The subdivision is on land which was once part of the farm. Mr.

Armitage used to take out the family day book which his great-grandfather, Amos Armitage, kept since he first settled in 1804 and comment on the early days. Records were kept of all the family transactions which were made in the district of Newmarket. Up until recent months he has closely followed the events of the world and of his own community. He always kept his interest in people, in the life and times of Newmarket and district and his well known sense of humor never failed.

The body of Silas Armitage is now resting at the chapel of Roadhouse and Rose on Main St. The day of his funeral will be announced.

Mr. Armitage surpassed all other members of his family who lived to old ages. His great grandfather, Isaac Webb died at the age of 96; his grandfather, Seth Armitage was 92 or 93 when he died and his father, who was the first of a family of eight boys and three girls to pass away, lived to be 84.

His wife, Emma Walton, died some years ago. A brother, Dr. Clayton W. Armitage, lives at Harbour Beach, Mich.

Milk up one cent, Toronto prices Go to arbitration

The price of milk went up one cent in Newmarket and Aurora on Tuesday. Negotiations between producers and dairies are not closed yet, however, and there is a possibility that the price may be further adjusted.

In Toronto, the producers have asked that price adjustments between them and the dairies be placed in arbitration and it is expected that the two parties meet today to name the arbitrator.

The rise in milk prices is not unexpected. Newmarket and Aurora prices are generally one cent less than those in Toronto and the Toronto increase of a cent last week was expected to be followed by the same increase here.

The producers point out that there has not been an increase in milk prices since a year ago last March when a price rise, which the producers felt to be far below their requirements, was granted. Since then, cost of production and distribution of milk has greatly increased.

The initial increase in Toronto was sparked by demands from dairy labor for increases and coincided with the period when the producers generally open negotiations for new prices. The increase to the Toronto consumer was to be split between producer and dairy labor.

Aurora Lions club Hears Dr. R. M. King Health unit officer

Mayor Alex Bell and members of council were guests of the Aurora Lions club Tuesday night at their Civic Night dinner. Councillor Harold Pringle, vice president of the Lions club arranged the program.

Reeve A. A. Cook introduced Dr. R. M. King who outlined the recent organization of the York County Health Unit and described its operation. He stressed particularly the benefit to the public which, he said, the Health Unit will prove to be in the future.

Sam Taylor suggested that a minstrel or variety show could be organized with all local talent to raise funds for the Lions Welfare work. The entertainment committee is to ask for suggestions from the members about skills which could be produced on such a program.

The best sing-song since the club was organized was a feature of Tuesday's meeting.

CITIZEN DOES HIS PART

Silas Armitage, who died shortly after 10 o'clock this morning, is shown in a picture taken shortly before his 100th birthday last winter. Like everyone else in Newmarket at that time, he was being tested during a survey by research technicians for diabetes. Born at Eagle and Yonge Sts., he lived a century in the Newmarket district.

An important difference between you and your neighbour

CHANCES ARE you have a lot in common with your neighbour. But there is an important difference between you and your neighbour. There is something special, for instance, about your plans for the future and theirs. You have your own ideas about how much income you'll need to live on in your later years. And you also determine at what age you'll want to start "taking it easy".

Likewise, you face different problems in protecting the family income in case anything happens to you.

With life insurance you can find security in both of these ways — arranged to fit your own special needs. You have a choice of many different kinds of policies for different purposes. And the services of trained life underwriters are at your beck and call to help you make that choice wisely.

Nothing but Life Insurance gives YOU this control over your future.

So today — and tomorrow — rely on your own life insurance to meet your own personal needs!

Mount Albert News

We have had a spell of queer weather. Last Saturday we could say it was next thing to snow in the form of sleet and frost that did a little damage but not as much as expected. Then Sunday, we watched the huge black cloud of smoke to the west and south of us and Monday what we saw of the sun was a pale mauve ball in the sky and at night, needless to say, we didn't see the eclipse.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watts had a pleasant surprise on Saturday when friends they had not seen for 32 years dropped in to see them. Mr. and Mrs. Albert McClesney, now of North Cobalt, had formerly lived at New Liskeard.

The Cheerio club will meet on October 7 at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Norman Brooks.

Mrs. Fern Palmateer is at the home of her mother, Mrs. S. Cain, for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carr and Mrs. Ernest Cain motored to Bracebridge and called on Rev. and Mrs. Burgess.

Two more large boxes of clothing and bedding were packed last week at Theaker's store to be sent to the church's shipment of clothing for overseas from this community. Anything you do not need along this line leave at the store and it will be sent on.

Mr. and Mrs. John Klassen, Caledon East, spent a few days of their honeymoon at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. Couper.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Harman, Parry Sound, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Theaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Price,

Toronto, visited last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Price.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Dike have returned from their wedding trip and are now getting settled in their home on the groom's farm.

Our new fire hall looks pretty nice now since it is finished and painted and our whole equipment is a credit to the village.

Some 24 ladies attended the meeting of the United church W.A. on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Walter Rate. The ladies decided to secure a late for Wilkins Bros. travelogue and also have a supper sometime later in the fall. A program of readings, music and an observation contest brought to a close the meeting of the month.

Miss Wilma Anglin, Toronto, was home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Anglin, over the weekend.

While the village went back on standard time on Sunday, the bus is still on fast time.

The Y.P.U. of the United church have got away to a start for the winter with the following officers: pres., Margaret Comer; vice pres., Florence Harrison; sec., Doreen Lunau; assist. sec., Lloyd Moorehead; treas., Carl Smith.

Miss Ruth Stiles is the new clerk at the Dominion Bank.

KETTLEBY

What a wonderful harvest Thanksgiving we had in Christ church on Sunday, Sept. 24. God's house was filled with grateful people at both services. The church was tastefully decorated by members of the Ladies' Guild. Morning service was taken by Rev. Mitchell of King and evening service by Rev. Wrixon, Richmond Hill. Soloist at morning service was Mrs. B. Marchant, an anthem was sung by members of the choir at the evening service.

There will not be a service in Christ church Sunday, Oct. 1, as St. Mary Magdalene's, Schomberg, is holding its harvest Thanksgiving services at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. D.S.T. We hope all our members will try to be present at one of these services.

Birthday greetings to Mrs. Ross Black on Friday, Sept. 29. Sunday-school will be held at Christ church October 1 at 2 p.m. D.S.T.

HOLLAND LANDING

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Evans on Sunday, Sept. 24. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cooper and their three children of Washago, Mrs. Doris Riley and four sons, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Quarry and their three children, Guelph, Miss Besie G. Evans, Reg. N., Orillia, Mr. Lex Wickham, Guelph, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Cocklin and their two daughters, Stayner, Mr. T. L. Webb and daughter, Cookstown, Mrs. E. J. Chapman and her daughter, Mrs. L. R. Sanderson of Leaside.

The alterations to the school rooms were completed last week and the teachers and scholars moved to the school on Monday. The village is on standard time.

YORK COUNTY

In Review 1615 - 1949

This is another of a series of articles on the history of York County, edited by Hugh Griggs, Mimico, from information compiled during the past four years by W. G. Goddard, staff member of Weston Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. York County celebrates its centenary this year.

In 1947, a message extending the felicitations of the council to Her Royal Highness, Princess Elizabeth, and to His Royal Highness, Lieut. Mountbatten, Duke of Edinburgh, on the occasion of their marriage, was sent.

For three days in 1948, students from the University of Toronto took part in an archaeological dig carried out under the direction of the Royal Ontario Museum on the site of an old Iroquois Indian village situated north of Jane St. and Wilson Ave. on the outskirts of Weston.

The desperate situation caused by lack of housing, particularly in the southern part of the county caused the members of county council to pass a motion urging the federal and provincial governments to assume responsibility for housing immigrants to this country.

The 50th anniversary of the opening of Toronto City Hall presented a problem to the municipal officials. To mark this anniversary it was intended to add a suitable inscription to the cornerstone which had been laid on November 21, 1891, by Edward Clarke, M.L.A., mayor of Toronto. Unfortunately, the corner-stone has never been inscribed and it was undistinguishable from any of the other massive blocks of New Brunswick brown stone of which the massive edifice was built.

However, an architect's description of the location of this stone was found. It read: a corner-stone to be laid in the southwest corner of the tower, in the third course of cut stone work, about three feet six inches above ground level and 30 feet above the foundation.

The stone has a space three feet long, one foot high and one foot wide in which a scroll containing the names of the aldermen and civic officials were placed, a message from William A. Pugsley, Esq., warden of the county of York, the names of members of county council and officials, a city directory for the year 1891, copies of the four morning and two evening newspapers and a copy of "Toronto of Old" by Dr. Scadding.

Mackenzie Home
William Lyon Mackenzie, who was the first mayor of Toronto and who led the ill-fated rebellion of 1837, was presented with a house in Toronto by friends, who were convinced that he had been a public benefactor. This house stands at 82 Bond St., and was bought in 1932 by T. Wilbur Best. It has been turned into a museum to house documents, pictures and furniture of early days in Toronto. This museum will be under the control of the William Lyon Mackenzie Homestead Foundation, the directors of which are Robert H. Saunders, T. Wilbur Best, C. R. Sanderson, H. R. Alley, G. W. Stoddart, Dr. Lorne Pierce, H. L. Symons and Mayor Hiram McCallum. In June, 1949, the dominion government designated it a national historic site.

Evidence of the good that reforestation can accomplish was shown members of the county council on their tour of the County Reforestation area at Vivian Forest in Whitechurch township. A stream on the property which has disappeared with the disappearance of trees was now so active again that it could be dammed to supply water for fire-fighting equipment.

OSLER CENTENNIAL
The centennial of the birth of the world-famous physician, Sir William Osler, was celebrated at Trinity College school, Port Hope. His connection with the county of York lies in the fact that he was born at Bond Head and studied at Trinity College school in 1866-7, when this school was situated at Weston in the home of Rev. W. A. Johnson.

The corner-stone of Humber Memorial hospital at Weston was laid. When completed this 5-bed hospital will serve a large population living on the outskirts of Greater Toronto, who have required such facilities within their own area.

The Toronto and York planning board was at work upon a most ambitious project known as the Green Belt. This is a plan to purchase and develop 4,500 acres of land surrounding the City of Toronto and adjacent municipalities into permanent parks to improve the appearance of the approaches to this vast built-up area. In this way entrance to this vast urban centre will be made through picturesque parklands and restful scenery.

Thus ends this series of historical articles, based on the chronology of the county of York prepared by W. G. Goddard, Weston, and edited by Hugh Griggs, Mimico.

HOLIDAYS OVER

Once again we have had our holidays, and now we must settle down to normal, every day living. But if you all have wonderful memories of your summer, such as I have, it won't be too hard. For we know summer can't last, just as we know holidays can't keep on indefinitely. I am sitting here in the living-room of my friend's cottage, Friday, Sept. 15, and this weekend finishes our splendid holiday here at Point Clark, beside the lighthouse whose beams circle our beach every night, all night long. You know the light rotates continuously, like a search light, really, from dusk to daylight.

I have told you about Point Clark, Lake Huron, many times but for someone who perhaps doesn't know, maybe I'd better explain. At this part of the beach, Point Clark, Lake Huron is 40 or more miles across and 80 miles farther north around are Bruce Beach, Kincardine, Sauble Beach, Southampton and Port Elgin and so on up Bruce Peninsula. But at Point Clark there is a long reef, which juts out about 15 miles, I understand.

It prevents shipping from approaching within miles of us. We see a drift of smoke and with the marine glass can distinguish a steamer, but it is so low in the water you can't tell anything about it. We can see nothing but water north, west and south and woods on the east; beyond the reef is water and more water as the lake runs off down at the south side of the reef past Amberley and Goderich. The lovely sea gulls come to the reef by hundreds.

Last week was gorgeous summer weather and the bathing was good every day, but Monday it started to rain and has been at it, off and on, ever since. Last night we had a miniature hurricane, but it didn't reach the proportions of the one I told you about last September. If it is the Equinoxal storms we are getting, then in good time, for isn't September 21 the beginning of autumn?

Huron Storm
As we sat here in our cozy living room yesterday evening with the few cottagers still here as guests, we noticed Lake Huron was really starting to roar pretty good—but we all love to hear it, even if it meant cooler weather. It has been wonderfully mild even if it was showery. However, we had hardly got to sleep before the storm hit us! It was pitch black, looking out of my window towards the woods, but I just got back into bed and let it blow! And did it blow! A continuous roar that never let up—just like the sound of a very heavy rain, but 100 times intensified.

The fire brigade will be interested to know I saw the fire truck in action in Kincardine one Sunday. No! hardly that, but I saw the truck at the scene of the fire I'd better say. We had left our cars across the street and were in Bruce Inn where we expected to have dinner, when the fire siren started. It sure did wake up Kincardine! The street was practically empty when we crossed the road to go to Bruce Inn, but it soon filled up! Just as our townsfolk respond to the fire whistle, so the townsfolk of Kincardine gathered on Main St., where the fire was.

It turned out to be in a bakery, but evidently was out without the aid of the firemen, for they were all laughing and joking, sitting on the truck or standing round—as if they had enjoyed the little run and the excitement! Kincardine is such a nice, honey town with its flower beds at street intersections, splendid stores and courteous clerks.

Auction Sale
Oh, I must tell of an auction sale we attended there. As I said to the others it was more like a garden party than anything else, except nobody passed around cups of hot tea, cake and ice cream. It was at a place near the north end of the town at an estate bordering on Lake Huron, with hedges of tall cedars, lovely green lawns and flower beds and borders, ablaze with flowers. It was an old-time home being sold up, so you can imagine the beautiful things arranged all around on the lawn in a lovely, large quadrangle beside the house.

We had an early dinner and drove out and didn't get back to Point Clark till about six, and still the sale wasn't over! The many Oriental rugs and carpets, pictures and heaps of other things hadn't been sold. The prices were high, but then so were the things offered for sale! Beautiful old-time furnishings! It was my first experience at an auction sale, but I am afraid the flowers and the grounds and Teen Topics is based on letters received and does not necessarily apply to any one individual.

Dear Cris: This is my problem. I am a girl of 17 very much in love with a boy of 25. My parents dislike this boy, and have forbidden me to go out with him. I meet him secretly, but hate to deceive my parents. What shall I do? Anne.

If I were you, I would stop seeing this boy. Perhaps, you are temporarily infatuated with him, but, out of fairness to your parents, you should stop seeing him. You say that the boy is 25. If that is the case, he is out of your age group anyway. You may have been able to successfully deceive your parents in the past, but this will not last forever, you know. My advice to you is to stop seeing this boy. At first it may seem a very hard thing to do, but I am quite sure that within a month's time, you will have practically forgotten him. I feel that things will work out alright for you in the end.

SNOWBALL

On Friday evening, Sept. 22, a number of neighbors and relatives of Allan Connor and his bride met at the school house for an hour of splendid entertainment and to present the young couple with a beautiful occasional chair. Mr. Jerry Black sang several numbers and led the guests in a sing-song. Mrs. Chas. Williams, accompanied by Mrs. Copson, sang. Mr. Chas. Williams, Mr. N. Storey and Mr. Gilkes played several selections and Miss Rita Chapman gave a humorous recitation, "Miranda's Wedding". After a lunch served by the ladies, the seats were removed and the Mitchell family supplied the music for round and square dancing. A good time was had by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Davis, Newmarket, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Gould.

A number of Snowball people enjoyed the Schomberg fair Saturday.

Miss Ruth Webb, Toronto, spent the weekend with her sister, Miss Hazel Webb.

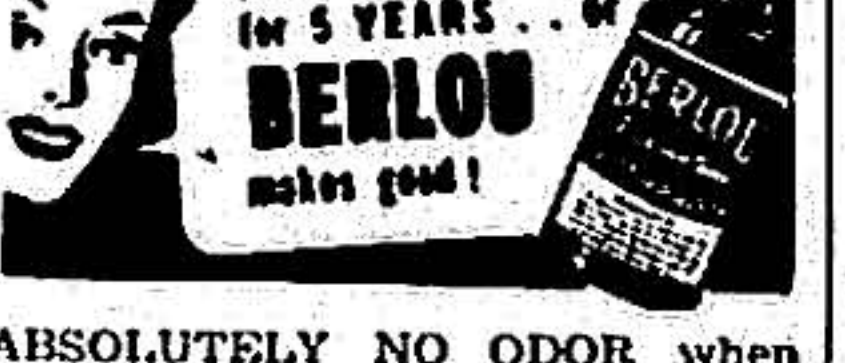

Mr. Wm. Gould returned home this week after spending three weeks visiting his daughter, Mrs. Earl Sutherland, Detroit.

Miss Cora Morning entertained several of her friends at a corn roast on Friday evening of last week.

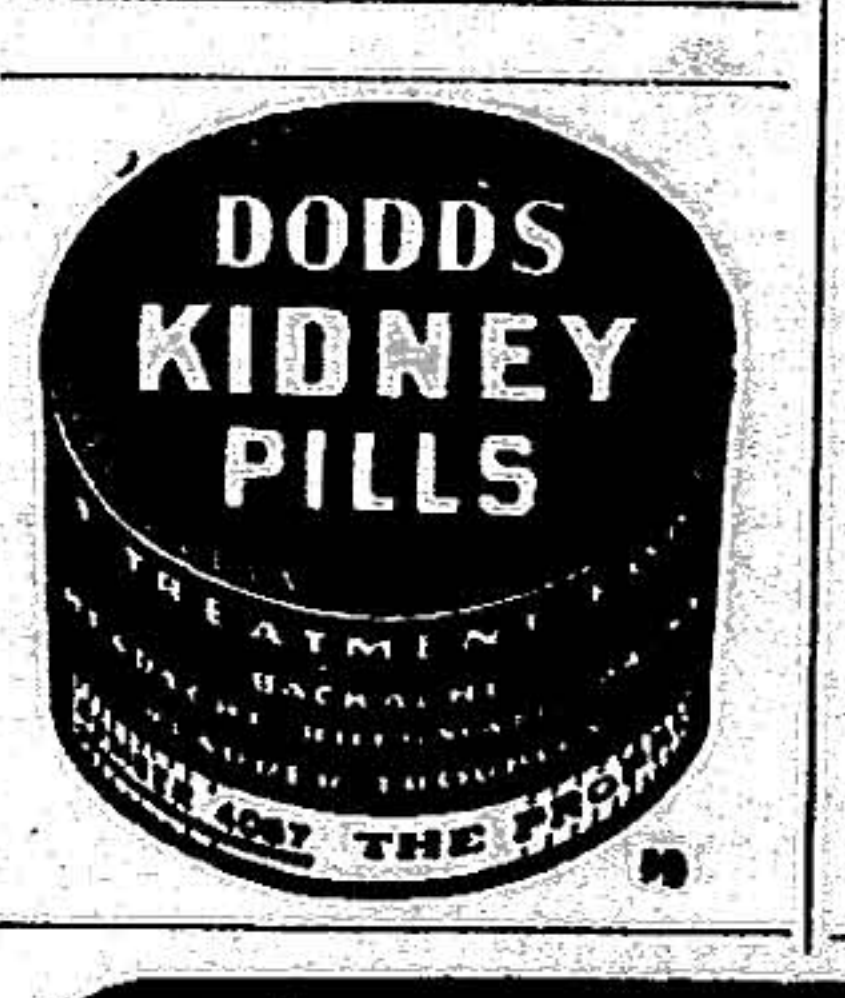

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Storey were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Storey, Niagara Falls, Miss Doris Weedon, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Green, Richmond Hill.

Little Barbie Blum went into York County hospital this week to have her tonsils removed. We wish her a speedy recovery.

The beautiful old home impressed me as much as the sale of antiques and everybody seemed to be having a good time, and so pleased with their purchases. My next article will be from home. I wonder what my garden will look like after a month's absence? I hear there are lots of flowers, including my pen name, Golden Glow.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

We have been reading in the Publisher's Auxiliary of the five year old son of an American publisher who has become quite the handy fellow around the composing room. The boy, reports his proud father, can't read but he has memorized the letters in the alphabet and knows the location of the type in the cases. He has memorized his own eight-syllable name and can set it in type, no small accomplishment.

We have our doubts whether we'll ever be able to proclaim such proficiency for our son. We were wakened the other morning by shouts that a "blowdozer" was coming up the road.

"It's a bulldozer," we mumbled sleepily.

"A bulldozer, a bulldozer," Geoff exclaimed.

"A BULLDOZER," we insisted. "Here comes the bulldozer," said Geoff. "It's a tractor with a blade across the front."

"Uh huh, a bulldozer," we said. "Can't you say bulldozer?"

"Bulldozer," said Geoff. "Here comes the bulldozer."

We knew an editor who used to insert outrageous statements into his editorial page. His theory was that he could tell how well his efforts were read by the number of people who checked him up.

It's not a practice which we subscribe to, but we have involuntarily committed ourselves to the same situation. We were having our morning coffee on Friday when a gentleman leaned over and said: "I have a bone to pick with you about an editorial."

"Could you leave it until after the coffee?" we suggested.

"I'm in a hurry," he replied. "It's about that editorial on town planning."

We braced ourselves for the blast. It has been a delicate subject.

"Twice in that editorial, you used the phrase 'all right' but both times you spelled it a-l-r-i-g-h-t. It's completely wrong, you know."

We mumbled something about the way "these Americanisms" were creeping into our speech and drowned our embarrassment in the cup of coffee.

Fowler's Dictionary of Modern English Usage offered some consolation. Although quite wrong, the "alright" is often seen, says Fowler, through confusion with already and altogether (so that was the reason!). "The words should always be written separately," Fowler's adds.

We have a letter from a farm equipment company advising us that they have been loaned a number of old plows, including the first plow built by the Wiard Plow Company, America's oldest manufacturer of plows, for exhibit at the International Plowing Matches in October. They suggest that if we are there, we might care to drop around and inspect it.

This plow, they tell us, has been exhibited at the Smithsonian Institute and a number of exhibitions including the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893 and the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo in 1901. It will be guarded throughout the show by a uniformed security officer. We are puzzled by this last. The plow was built in 1804 and its age has no doubt increased its value but we wonder why anyone would want to take it home as a souvenir. Apart from transportation difficulties, if anyone wants old farm machinery there is plenty lying around the abandoned farms of Ontario.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

SEPTEMBER 28, 1900
Largest market for a long time on Saturday. Eggs were plentiful but prices went up to 13 and 14 cents. Lots of butter and the price was inclined to drop. Some buyers were only paying 19 and 20 cents, 22 cents was the highest paid. Vegetables were in abundance. Onions were selling at 20 cents a pk., cabbage from four to ten cents a head according to size. Celery was five cents a head or three for ten cents, garden red carrots, five cents a doz. Hubbard squash was ten cents each, pears 20 and 25 cents a pk. and strained honey nine and ten cents a lb.

Miss Charlotte Simpson left last Saturday for New Westminster, B.C., where she will spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. Gilbert Mathewson.

Mr. J. D. Graham, Sharon, has written another patriotic piece entitled "Our Brave Boys Come Home Today". A Toronto firm is giving him a royalty and 3,000 copies are being printed on the first order.

At the last meeting of the Methodist W.M.S. officers elected were: pres., Mrs. G. McCulloch; vice pres., Mrs. Chas. Lundy; Mrs. E. Jackson; rec. sec., Mrs. E. Combs; corr. sec., Mrs. R. E. Manning.

The Specialty works expects to shut down next week for repairs to the boiler.

The new station is about ready for occupancy. The electric lights are being installed this week and the agent expects to move in next Monday or Tuesday. Two hundred feet of new platform has been laid and another 150 feet will be laid as soon as the old station is removed.

At a meeting of the committee for the Haines memorial it was decided that the memorial should be placed on the Water Works lawn or the triangle on Main St. The mayor was requested to write Hon. Wm. Mullock and ask him to apply to the dominion government for one of the captured Boer guns to be placed as a trophy beside the memorial.

The Editorials:

Protests foolish

There was newspaper speculation at the weekend that the price of milk to the Toronto consumer might rise another cent. Even before this possibility arose, there were protests against the first one-cent increase. The Toronto board of control voted to ask the provincial government to investigate. A church group passed a resolution which would have pegged the price of milk. A consumers' association uttered shrill cries.

But is it not pertinent to enquire just why there should be these protests? The prices of most other commodities and services are going up; we are told by a builder, for example, that the cost of a new home has increased 20 percent since spring. The milk price in Toronto until last week had been the same since a year ago March. The farmer must pay his share of increased costs just like the rest of us, and like the rest of us, he needs increased revenue with which to do it.

It is ironical that the city consumer who now protests so strongly is frequently dependent upon the farmer maintaining his purchasing power for his own job. The agricultural market is a major market for the sale of manufactured goods; but that market is only as good as the farmers' ability to buy. He needs that increased milk cheque to meet his costs and maintain his purchasing power.

If wage increases had not forced up the cost of those manufactured goods which he purchases, he would not now require more for his own products... But that is now ancient history.

Civil defence

The receipt of information and tables of organization for civil defence from the government, much of it marked confidential, is no reason to declare a state of local emergency. The prospect of an atomic bomb explosion in Toronto is harrowing, and the odds it won't be dropped are not so high as to encourage optimism. But there is still plenty of time to make necessary preparations—if a start is made at once.

Both Newmarket and Aurora are included in what is described as the "cushion area" of a bomb dropped in or near Toronto. This means, we suppose, that the immediate effects of the blast would not be felt here but that there is some danger from radio-activity contamination and other by-products of the blast. Both centres would be called on to care for refugees and to provide assistance in the re-establishment of essential services in the stricken city. If time permitted, in event of war, both centres might become evacuation points for city folk and have to provide accommodation for them at short notice.

The advice of the municipalities is an encouraging indication that the government is at last initiating some action after months of indecision. We would like a further step taken: the training of the thousands of civilians who are unable to enlist in the reserve because of minor physical infirmities but who otherwise could give a good account of themselves in event of invasion.

Canada's limited defence forces would be strongly bolstered by a population trained in guerrilla warfare. The country lends itself to these tactics. The psychological value of such a program would be immense; there would be a sense of general participation in resistance to communism which so far has been a rather exclusive undertaking.

Amalgamation again

The hearings before the municipal board of Toronto's proposal to absorb its suburban municipalities have proceeded rather quietly so far. But there was an exchange between counsel and witness which is revealing of the line of thought which gave birth to the amalgamation proposal.

Mr. C. P. McTague, K.C., counsel for York county, was questioning Mr. E. A. Jarrett, a Mimico auditor who favored amalgamation. In response to a statement by Mr. Jarrett, Mr. McTague asked: "What you say is that we need a new deal which would wipe out the legal right of all others (suburban municipalities)." "Yes," said Mr. Jarrett, "because the province has the legal right to set them up in the first place and the right to break them down when they make such a patchwork as this."

"You appreciate that amalgamation would automatically wipe all their (suburban municipalities) rights?" asked Mr. McTague. "Yes." And again:

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

Dark gloom, aside from smoke, settled this week over Cuttin Corners, once thriving corn belt centre not far from here.

Our inside Cuttin Corners correspondent reported earlier this week, "The community is divided into two political camps—the one of the daylight saving supporters, the other of the old time supporters. A political crisis is indeed at hand."

Your favorite cat correspondent himself rushed into the thorny heart of this political hotbed by special thumb to give readers this interpretive report.

Cuttin Corners this week was a scene of chaos. "Yep, chaos sure rules in town since this here time bung-up," was the first comment of reeve McTelum. "Bein' an old time supporter from away back, I figure we're entitled to old standard rights."

In a message to the people, the reeve said over the town megaphone at a gathering near the communal watering trough, "Chaos rules in Cuttin Corners. My aim is to bring sanitation out of chaos. Down with this here insanity. What we need is to get back to the old time."

Half the townspeople clamored and cheered. The rally wound up with an old time dance and hoe down. Cam Ferated, featured violinist, did some old time fiddlin'.

And where was the other half of the townspeople? Oh, it was over at Hank Shoulder's general store where a similar meeting gathered. Trustee Col. Mulholland Rivers, holder of the honored Cuttin Corners Annual Gooseberry Festival and Horse Show portfolio, told the people that the "community would never go back on standard time as long as the reactionaries continued their policy of coercion."

The big men who sit in offices and direct policy sometimes do not realize the effects of their decisions. Take Cuttin Corners, for instance...

"Cursin' or not, they ought to be tied up and run out of town," cried a gravel voice from the rear. And the other half of the town clamored and cheered.

It all started when the village council sat down to decide whether it would follow the city folks and go on D.S.T. or revert to standard time. Because of the vacancy in council left by the late Deb Enture, the members sat in round numbers; a tie vote was recorded and the split rent the municipal administration into bitter halves.

The Cuttin Corners Weekly Crank and Mimeo, a sporadic journal which has been riding the fence in this crisis, editorialized, "See what you have done, Mr. Saunders? We were once a thriving peace loving community. Our children were angels and our citizens were law abiding. Now our citizens are rioting and our children tar and feather one another—all because you make one of your brain trust suggestions and the country is thrown into a melee of heterogeneous time belts. Society will never outgrow these painful contortions you have wished upon it."

(The opinions of the Crank and Mimeo are not necessarily accepted by this correspondent.)

Meanwhile Bill Emplenty, attorney-at-law, was shot in the back when he made two office appointments. One was for two o'clock, the other for three o'clock. One party was on new time, the other on old time and both arrived at the same time. Both being opposing characters in a potential legal dispute, a fight ensued. Pistol shots rang out and Bill Emplenty's career was ended.

The big men who sit in offices and direct policy sometimes do not realize the effects of their decisions. Take Cuttin Corners, for instance...

The Top Six Inches by "Back Concession"

In conversation with a professional man, he said that if people did not have enough money, it is their own fault for not getting a good education.

This does not seem fair because here are those that have not the mental capacity to absorb book learning. And we must have people to work at lower wage jobs. This class of people cannot be condemned because they did not get an education. Our present day civilization could not exist without men to dig out the sewers.

The office or white collar worker must remember to have heat and running water in the office takes hard, dirty work. In our society in the past, we have discounted too much the men and women that do our hard, dirty work.

By the action of labor unions, this heavy industry is getting a better deal. When we see some men and women married and bringing children into the world, we know these children will never have a chance at anything but hard labor—and even may become a public charge. Some mental sicknesses are known to be from the lack of nutrition. We have people that have to be taken care of by public funds because in the midst of plenty of food, they have not had enough.

Many articles have been written and lectures given on nutrition. Those that have the money to buy proper food do not eat the right food. It is surprising to sit in a restaurant and watch what people order to eat when we know the health of a nation can be increased by proper food.

We read articles in our papers condemning plans and schemes that give people a chance to be healthy by plenty of right kind of food. We wonder if the writers of those articles have ever been hungry.

Farmers who have had a father-to-son system on the farm and the farm and stock handed down have never known what it is to not have security. This class of farmer condemns all kinds of unions and farm co-operatives and farm organizations. Those two classes of people, the professional class and the secure class farmer often do not know what human kindness is.

The farmers in Manitoba had their stock and buildings swept away by the flood. It would seem right for the farm people to have some security away from the farm. One farmer said he did not need any insurance because he had all the security his family needed on the farm. There is a wonderful field open for the farm people to study the need of security. Pension plans and sick insurance for labor are paid for by industry. It is time the farmer thought in like terms. The federation of agriculture is working on insurance plans for farm people, and run by farm people only. It does not seem fair that the government should place the reserves on new companies so high, when older insurance companies have had lower reserves in the past and have had years of profit from the people's business to build up large reserves.

The government demands that insurance companies have reserves sufficient to cover the policy holders from loss. When new companies are asked to hold more reserves than is needed to insure the policy holder, it would seem that now insurance companies are not wanted. The farm people would do well to study the profits of insurance. Cheerio.

An Aurora Opinion

By
DOROTHY BARKER
Aurora Editor

A striking difference in the treatment of news in the daily papers was noted by Miss Mary Bowman, Aurora, during her recent trip abroad. In the old country, and on the continent, war news and scare headlines do not receive the prominence they do in Canada, and more especially in the papers published in the United States," said Miss Bowman.

The freedom of the press is definitely being misused, is the opinion of Canada's only delegate to the fifth Plenary Assembly of the Federation of United Nations Associations held in Geneva early in September. Our representative to the Assembly, who is also secretary of Toronto United Nations Association, feels that if the same number of inches were given to the subject of peace were used every day in the report, forecast, and detailed description of war, there might be less likelihood of the entire world being thrown into another conflict.

How much our thinking is influenced by the press! It would amaze us if we ever stopped long enough to analyze our reactions to the printed word. We believe that we are independent thinkers, that we are a law unto ourselves when it comes to forming an opinion, yet subconsciously every idea we have developed from our constant association with print.

That is why the press will always be a powerful medium for impressions caught, by the eye register more definitely than the sound of the spoken word. We do not feel we are being extravagant when we express the belief that the "fourth freedom" is the greatest influence for good or evil in the world today.

There is an adage, not so very old, that states "where you find a good paper you will find a good town". The newspaper is recognized as the leader in every community. It can, in one paragraph, either make or break a town. The fourth freedom, "freedom of speech" recognized more emphatically as "freedom of the press" than its literal interpretation, is both the strongest and the weakest link in our way of life today.

The Old Bath, England, has been 30 years enough solids to create an excavation six feet wide, three feet high, and nine miles long, yet its water seems perfectly clear.

A temper is an asset—so long as we lose it only intentionally.

Oak Ridges News

A hand controlled traffic signal at Oak Ridges school crossing on Yonge St. is a possibility, according to statement reported to have been made by Hon. George Doucett, provincial minister of highways, commenting on the project registered by the trustee board of Union S. S. No. 1, that cars speeding at 50 miles an hour or more on highway No. 11 past Oak Ridges school, constitute a constant menace to some 400 children.

Mr. Doucett stated if residents of the area invented a hand-controlled traffic signal and the traffic warranted it, his department would install a light if the department is sure a light is needed. Frank A. Legge, chairman of the school board, thinks a signal light system is necessary.

Oak Ridges school board is acting through Major Lex MacKenzie, M.P.P., Mr. Legge stated. Children use the crossing from 8 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. A provincial police inspector has described the school crossing the worst traffic problem in the province. The school was built on the west side of Yonge St. in 1914. With the erection of a school at Lake Wilcox area, some of the school crossing anxiety will be relieved, said Mr. Legge.

Begin Course

Richard Bull, 17, left his home this week to begin a four year's course at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph. He obtained the Whitchurch township scholarship as high pupil of the township at Aurora high school in senior matriculation examinations. In appreciation of his work as secretary of the Sunshine Sunday-school at Oak Ridges, he was presented with a brief bag by leaders and scholars of the school, last Sunday morning.

Win at Collingwood

At Collingwood fall fair, Oak Ridges Riding club captured ten ribbons. Miss Marilyn Hawman, the trainer, said the seven riders each had opportunity to enter classes. Five horses were taken to the fair. Miss Hawman won first place in lady riding class, and placed first in hunter hack classes, Catharine Gunn, third in pleasure horses and in hunter hack; John Gallacher, third junior rider; Anne Rowe, aged six, second in pleasure horse and third in lady rider.

Miss Hawman and Anne Rowe competed at Barrie on Wednesday and Miss Hawman will go to Streetsville on September 30.

The trophy given by Capt. E. C. Hawman, Oak Ridges, for riders living in Simcoe county was won by Ronald Fulford, Collingwood. Barbara Ann Lloyd won the first year which was in 1949. The trophy must be won three times in succession for permanent possession. A small replica of the trophy is given each year for the rider's personal prize. Capt. Hawman is Marilyn's father.

Oak Ridges school, St. John's church and Sunday-school, the Sunshine Sunday-school and business places and restaurants at Oak Ridges and Lake Wilcox are operating on daylight saving time in accordance to the present practice of local neighboring communities. The school board say no mention of change has been spoken of.

Health Subject for H. & S.

Mrs. Hulme will conduct a health topic for Oak Ridges Home and School meeting which has been put forward a day to October 10 to avoid conflict with Thanksgiving Monday, the usual date. Mrs. Oliver Boyle, a valued member of the Home and School, is leaving the immediate community.

At the meeting of the Ladies' Association of the Girl Guides held on Wednesday evening a pair of silver teaspoons mounted with the Girl Guide crest was presented to Mrs. Oliver Boyle who is moving to Thornhill. Miss Phyllis McKenna, captain of the Guide company, who has given her resignation as leader because of her marriage in October. She was given a letter of appreciation for her services. Mrs. Simpson, who last year lent splendid aid to the work, was appreciatively thanked by letter. Lieut. Joan Appleton is acting leader of Oak Ridges Guide company.

York county Guide and Brownie leaders will meet at Oak Ridges school on Friday, Sept. 29, for the first of a series of training courses for leaders.

Oak Ridges Cubs won the trophy in the "Games Day" at King Memorial Park on Saturday afternoon, attended by 112 Cubs representing two packs from Richmond Hill, Thornhill, Richvale, Oak Ridges, Willowdale and King. While King and Oak Ridges each made 150 credits out of a possible 180, the prize was conceded to the visiting group who received an elaborate Indian headgear, donated by King Cubs. The event was planned by Mary Hood, master of the First King Cub pack, assisted by Jack Hambly.

Mrs. James Wall and her father, Mr. John Ganjoulouski, Toronto, were guests at the wedding of Miss Frances Healey, Toronto, to Mr. William Granger, a brother of Mrs. Wall, at St. Peter's Roman Catholic church, Toronto, on Saturday. The bride is a cousin of Mr. Wall. Also attending the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chevrolet and daughter, Joan, Lake Wilcox.

Mrs. Chevrolet, a sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Guests remained to see the happily married board the night train for a trip to Northern Ontario.

Present at an afternoon tea at Our Lady of Grace church, Aurora, on Wednesday, Sept. 27, were Mrs. J. J. Wall and Mrs. Joe Landle, Oak Ridges, and Mrs. Craig, Lake Wilcox. All ladies of the parish were invited to attend to become better acquainted and to enjoy a social afternoon.

Harvest Services

Harvest Thanksgiving service will be observed in the customary manner at St. John's Anglican church, Oak Ridges, on Sunday morning, Oct. 8, conducted by the rector, Rev. D. F. C. Nichell.

The W.A. of St. John's will meet at the home of Mrs. Beatty on Wednesday, Oct. 4. The date and time of the annual rummage sale, home baking sale and afternoon tea at Ridge Inn will be settled.

The mother of Mrs. Maurice Beynon, president of the W.A., has been ill for several days.

On Tuesday, Oct. 10, at Ridge Inn, King Women's Institute branch will hold the annual birthday celebration in the form of a court whist evening when members may bring husband or a friend. Mrs. A. E. Jarvis is president.

Miss Betty Louise Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Allen, Oak Ridges, will wed Michael Patrick Stasko, son of Mrs. A. Sabo and the late John Stasko, on Saturday, Oct. 14.

District newcomers are a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Amodeo, Lake Wilcox, on September 15 at York County hospital, Newmarket; a son on September 19 to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burns, Oak Ridges, at York County hospital.

Mrs. C. L. Stephenson spent a few days with her son, Allan, and his wife at Schomberg where Mr. Stephenson is employed in the Imperial Bank.

Mr. Charles Howitt, Islington, public school inspector for Oak Ridges, is able to attend his duties in his inspectorate after his illness.

Rev. D. F. C. Nichell, rector of St. John's church, preached at Kettleby Anglican church last Sunday. Rev. F. V. Abbott, Schomberg, took St. John's pulpit.

Mr. James J. Wall has been awarded the contract to install plumbing in the new addition to Aurora arena. Twenty-seven units are required. Mr. Wall is commencing work now. Mr. Wall has taken on the management of Aurora junior hockey team.

Farewell Dinner

On Monday evening a dinner party for Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Renwick and their young children, Randy and Jill, was held at the home of Mrs. William Ashby. Twenty neighbors were present. The guests gathered at the home of Mrs. James Gilchrist and on to Mrs. Ashby's where the tables were effectively decorated with deep red asters. After a dinner arranged by the several neighbors, everyone went back to the Gilchrist home for the remainder of the evening.

Mr. Renwick and his family will move to Brampton around the middle of October. He does not intend to sell his Lake Wilcox home and will doubtless occupy it during next summer. Mr. Renwick has been president of the newly formed Oak Ridges and Lake Wilcox Ratepayers' Association.

Now and then we figure any high degree of international co-operation is improbable in a world where most people won't keep to the right on a crowded sidewalk.

The United States Weather Bureau reported more than 10,000,000 different local weather observations during 1948.

IN 50 YEARS
ALUMINUM HAS GROWN TO BE A LARGE PART OF
CANADIAN LIVING

"Daddy, what makes it hum?"

"HARNESSED RAINDROPS, SONNY!" It's a true answer... In Shipshaw powerhouse you are awed by the hum of twelve gigantic generators. They are driven by rain and snow which fill Lake St. John and pour down the Saguenay River.

The water is channelled to a man-made lake on top of a hill. Then it rushes down tunnels chiselled through solid rock to dash against turbines like the model at which the boy is peering—but weighing 50 tons.

The turbines drive generators. The electricity they generate speeds to nearby Arvida. There it refines shining aluminum out of bauxite from British Guiana.

Over 1000 Canadian companies form aluminum into all sorts of useful articles. All this means work for Canadians. This country supplies nothing but the raindrops—and the brains, hands and enterprise to harness them.

The hum in the power house at Shipshaw is a hymn of progress. It is a sound of Canada's standard of living going up...

White—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. A. S. White, who passed quietly away on Sept. 29, 1936.

A silent thought, a secret tear
Keeps her memory ever dear:
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
So often remembered and missed
By daughter, Mary Valerie Chubb
(now of Union City, Michigan).

NEWMARKET COUPLE QUIETLY OBSERVE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

A 50th wedding anniversary was observed in Newmarket last Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bain, 25 Ontario St. They were married by the late Elder Prosser who was then minister of the Christian church.

Frank Bain started to work at the William Cain pencil factory on Huron St. when he was 13 years old. His wife is the former Mary Smith of Ravenshoe, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Smith who farmed at Ravenshoe and lived in Newmarket for a short time. They have lived all their married life in Newmarket and since 1927 Mr. Bain has been caretaker at the home of Mr. Aubrey Davis. They have a son, Douglas, and a daughter, Daisy, Mrs. Earl Thompson, Newmarket.

Mrs. Bain came from a family of three sisters and four brothers. A brother, Joe Smith lives in Newmarket, Jim is on the farm at Queensville and Charles is at Queensville. Sisters are Mrs. James McMullen, Newmarket, Mrs. Frank Hopper, Toronto, and Mrs. Dave Benton, Queensville. Mr. Bain who was born near Barrie has a brother, Will Bain in Chicago, Jack at Acton, Ab. in Newmarket, a sister, Mrs. Minnie Burch, Buffalo and a sister in Surrey, England.

The Bains celebrated their anniversary quietly at home.

B. AND P. RESUME ACTIVITIES

The Newmarket Business and Professional Women's club began the fall season with a dinner meeting at the King George hotel on Monday, Sept. 18. Miss Laura Whitfield presided.

Plans were discussed regarding the presentation of the variety show, "It's A Date", which the club is sponsoring at the town hall on September 28 and 29. Co-chairmen of the venture are Vi Dales and Vera Brown. It was decided that the club would donate the proceeds from the show to the Ladies' Aid of York County hospital.

The program at the meeting was under the direction of Dorothy Bowman. Each member gave a brief account of her summer holidays.

At the October meeting, Norine Ayers will give a report on the convention held at Halifax in July as well as a resume of her tour of Nova Scotia. The draw for Miss White Collar who is dressed in $25, will be held at that time.

ST. ANDREW'S Y.P.S.

St. Andrew's Young People's Society, Newmarket, was reorganized for the winter session at a meeting held at the manse on Sunday evening. Jack Malcolm was elected president. The new secretary - treasurer is Barbara Graham. The three conveneresses: Worship, Service and Fellowship, were assigned respectively to Neil Paris, Donald Cockburn and Douglas Cockburn. The first meeting will be held on Monday, Oct. 2, at 8 p.m. After that the society will meet monthly on the second Tuesday of each month.

W.C.T.U. MEET

The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held at the home of Mrs. H. Hooker, 5 Arden Ave., on Tuesday, Oct. 3, at 3 p.m.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Proctor on Wednesday evening, Sept. 20, for Miss Rhoda Longhurst. About 35 friends and relatives gathered for the occasion. Miss Longhurst received a wide assortment of gifts. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

SPECIALTY STAFF

SHOWERS BRIDE

Over 40 members of the staff gathered at Office Specialty Mfg. Co. on Monday evening, Sept. 18, to shower Miss Rhoda Longhurst, bride elect of September 30.

The honoree was the recipient of many lovely gifts. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of a pleasant evening.

DANCING CLASSES OPEN OCT. 2 IN KING GEORGE

Through the courtesy of the board of education of the Newmarket public schools, two schools are being opened for instruction in tap and ballet dancing.

On Monday, Oct. 2, in the King George school, the first class for little girls aged six to nine, will begin their season which will comprise 30 lessons, one lesson a week, lasting one hour under the personal direction of Mrs. Landen, Aurora.

Immediately following will be a class for older girls. On the following Friday, Mrs. Landen will be in the Alexander Muir school at 3.45 to accept registrations for the two classes to be held there. Many registrations have already been made for both schools and as the classes are limited to size it would be advisable to register either by phone or at the first class.

Plans are already underway for a recital to be given at the end of the season.

Rev. Chas. Kerestly Guest at three services

Rev. Chas. Kerestly, Northern Regional Director for the Young People's Missionary Society of the Free Methodist church, will be speaking Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the church. Rev. Kerestly has a film, "Time For Action", and curios and slides from his trip to the Dominican Republic. He will also be speaking in the Sunday services. Miss Vera Belugin, Newmarket, will be soloist Saturday evening and the young people's chorus group will sing Saturday and Sunday. All are welcome at these services.

TRINITY W.A.

A meeting of the Women's Association of Trinity United church, Newmarket, will be held in the Sunday school room on Thursday, Oct. 5, at 2.45 p.m. The meeting will be under the leadership of Mrs. H. A. Jackson, Mrs. Norman Hopper and their group. Guest soloist will be Mrs. R. D. Brown.

A full attendance is requested.

MEETING CANCELLED

There will be no October meeting of the Newmarket Scout Guide Mothers' Auxiliary. The next meeting will be held on November 6, in the Scout hall.

GUIDE LEADERS URGENTLY NEEDED IN NEWMARKET

"Guide leaders are needed badly for the Newmarket Girl Guide company. Due to the Scout hall being used in the hydro conversion project, Guiding has not been resumed this fall, but if we do not have some volunteers it is doubtful if we shall be able to continue the group," said Mrs. M. E. R. Boudreau, district commissioner, today.

There are over 50 girls in the company which was organized in the fall of 1947. Keen interest in the varied program has been maintained and it would be a great pity if it became necessary to close the company.

Girl Guiding offers a program of training in citizenship for girls. It is non-political, inter-denominational and is open to girls of every race. The patrol system, patterned on the democratic system of government, develops powers of self-reliance, observation and thoughtfulness for others, encouraging girls to accept responsibility and to learn for themselves many crafts and services which are also useful to the public. The program is based on four themes which ensure a well-rounded development—in intelligence, handicraft, health and service.

Anyone interested in assisting with the leadership of the Newmarket company is requested to contact Mrs. Boudreau, phone 1086. Training will be provided for those who are unfamiliar with Guiding.

ST. PAUL'S OBSERVES HARVEST SERVICE

The annual Harvest Thanksgiving services were held in St. Paul's Anglican church, Newmarket, last Sunday in both morning and evening. The choir was beautifully decorated with flowers, fruit and vegetables. Special music by the choir included the harvest anthem, "We gather together to ask the Lord's blessing", a Netherland melody, under the leadership of the organist, Mr. J. F. Willis, A.C.C.O.

All the different organizations of the church are again meeting as usual, and the boys' club will begin again soon. The rector, Rev. J. T. Rhodes, plans to form a confirmation class in the near future and asks anyone wishing to join to get in touch with him.

OBITUARY

Elizabeth Arnold

Elizabeth Arnold, Queensville, died at her home at Queensville on September 16 after a long illness. She was the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Cunningham. Sole survivor of a family of four sisters and two brothers is one sister, Mrs. J. L. Cowieson.

Her chief interests were in her church and she was well known for her kindness to others. Also surviving her is a daughter, Vera, and a son, Irving.

The funeral service was held the following Tuesday at 2 p.m. from the Strasser Funeral Home in Queensville. Services were conducted by Rev. Eric V. Warren. Many beautiful floral tributes indicated her high esteem in the community. Interment was at the family plot in Queensville cemetery.

Pallbearers were Messrs. Huntley, Peregrine, Alleyne, Crouth, Andrews and Batt.

MYRTLE MCGHEE

WEDS E. E. CAMERON

Gladioli formed the setting in Aurora United church on Saturday, Sept. 16, when Myrtle Melissa Elizabeth McGhee became the bride of Edward Elsworth Cameron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cameron, Aurora. Rev. H. J. Rowley performed the ceremony and Mr. Illyd Harris played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Edna Brown as she sang "I Love You Truly" before the service and "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Jack Closs, the bride wore a gown of blush slipper satin in designed with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and a skirt which swirled into a circular train. A pearl edged satin head-dress held her fingertip illusion veil and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Eugene Rose was matron of honor, gowned in sandwallow satin, and bridesmaids, Miss Beth Brodie and Miss Dorothy Winter, were in turquoise blue in similar satin gowns. All wore matching bonnets and mitts and carried nosegays of mixed flowers.

Douglas Cameron, brother of the groom, was best man. James Rutledge, Vern Powell, Eugene Rose, Douglas Case were ushers.

In the Ambassador room at the Gray Stones, the bride's mother received wearing a wine gabardine suit with corsage of yellow roses, assisted by the groom's mother in a dress of embroidered blue-grey silk faille with corsage of pink roses.

For a motor trip to Niagara Falls and parts of the States, the bride donned a bige gabardine suit with brown accessories and corsage of yellow roses. On their return they will reside in Aurora.

The ceremony was recorded by Mr. Clifford Griffith, Aurora, the bride's gown was designed by her aunt, Mrs. Peter Neufeld, Newmarket. Out-of-town guests were from Woodstock, Hamilton, Penetang, Schomberg and Newmarket.

MT. ALBERT MAN

WEDS IN TORONTO

Epworth United church, Toronto, decorated with baskets of gladioli, was the scene of the marriage September 9, of Loreen Loretta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Sharpe, Toronto, and Mr. Douglas Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Price, Mount Albert. Rev. Kendall officiated. Mr. H. Toppling was organist and Mrs. Dorothy Abbott soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown and veil held with a halo of pearls. She carried a cascade of red roses. Mrs. Teresa Daly, bridesmaid, and Mrs. R. Snooks, matron of honor, were gowned in rose bengaline and carried baskets of mixed flowers. Mr. Ken Case was best man and Messrs. Bob Stokes and Ken Snooks were ushers.

The reception was held at the Co-op Hall, on Pave Ave., where Mrs. Sharpe received in brown flowered crepe with brown accessories. Mrs. Price, mother of the groom, assisted wearing powder blue crepe with navy accessories.

For travelling to New York, the bride chose a navy blue suit with navy accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Price will reside in Toronto. Guests were present from Mount Albert and Galt.

MARIE FIERHELLER

WED IN AURORA

Aurora United church was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers for the marriage of Marie Catharine, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fierheller, Spruce St., Aurora, to Mr. Alfred Joseph Worrall, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Worrall, Toronto.

Rev. H. Howie officiated and Mr. Illyd Harris played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Lambert Willson who sang "O Perfect Love" and "I'll Walk Beside You".

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and was charmingly gowned in cream brocaded satin with lace trimmings and long train. A halo of seed pearls and orange blossoms held her full-length veil. She carried a cascade of red roses and lilies. Her only ornament was a three-strand necklace of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Miss Lorraine Fierheller was her sister's maid of honor, gowned in pink brocaded taffeta. Miss Mary Worrall and Mrs. Roy Charlton were bridesmaids gowned alike in blue brocaded taffeta. Little Miss Sharon Copland made a charming flower girl in blue taffeta. All wore circlets of roses in their hair with shoulder-length veils. They carried bouquets of flowers matching their dresses. Mr. Roy Charlton was best man and Messrs. Bill and Chas. Worrall, brothers of the groom, were ushers.

The reception was held in the church parlors where the bride's mother received in navy blue silk crepe and corsage of pink roses and fern. The groom's mother assisted in grey silk crepe with corsage of yellow roses. Mr. and Mrs. Worrall left on a honeymoon trip to Lake of Bays. The bride travelled in a cinnamon brown gabardine suit with green hat and brown accessories. Her corsage was yellow roses and forget-me-nots. Upon their return, they will reside in Richmond Hill.

News of the W.I.

In North York

News for this column must be in the office Monday night. Copy must be written as briefly as possible and confined to news and reports. Other than routine reports and announcements will be printed separately.

The Vandorf branch W.I. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Clayton Pogue on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 20, with Mrs. George Richardson presiding. There was a good attendance.

The topic was given by the Home Economics committee under the direction of Mrs. H. Sleeth. Mrs. J. Sullivan gave an instructive demonstration on the making of paper flowers after which each member was to make a rose. Mrs. George Dewsbury was the winner of the contest.

The business consisted of planning for a bus tour to Toronto sometime in October. A committee was appointed to be in charge of a drama presented by the Stouffville W.I. on October 24.

The roll-call was answered by some interesting telephone manners. Hostesses were Mrs. J. Sullivan, Mrs. R. J. McCarron and Mrs. H. A. White.

The meeting of the Zephyr branch was held in the community hall on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 20, at 2.30 o'clock with the president in the chair. There were 19 members and one visitor present. Roll-call, "Where I was born", was answered by the members. It was decided to accept Belhaven's invitation to visit it on October 1. "Zephyr" will provide the program.

Mrs. Meyers then took charge of the program. Mrs. C. Arnold gave a splendid paper on Individuality and Personality, a talk on posture and Mrs. A. Arnold gave a reading on Voice. Mrs. Jas. Galbraith gave a humorous reading, The Census Taker, followed by singing. Then the question drawer. Lunch was served and a social half-hour was enjoyed.

The October meeting of Shar-on branch Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Weddel at 2.30 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 4. Roll call - name a Canadian manufactured product. Agriculture and Canadian Industries convener: Mrs. E. Evans and Mrs. Levi Weddel. Ref. Com: Mrs. Harry Walker, Mrs. Jas. Lunney and Miss Nora Shaw.

The October meeting of the Elmhurst branch will be held in the home of Mrs. L. B. Pollock on October 4. Roll call: first aid hint. Program: entertain Union St. who will provide program. Refreshments: all members provide.

Belhaven branch met at the home of Mrs. Ross Mainprize on Tuesday, Sept. 12, with a good attendance. Mrs. Bernard Davidson gave current events. Mrs. Lloyd Kay read an amusing article entitled "When we ate the parlor rug". The most interesting item on the program was the talk given by Mrs. Bert Stephens about her trip to England and Scotland. A lovely lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

The Newmarket branch held the regular meeting on Thursday, Sept. 21, with 40 members and 7 visitors present. Mrs. T. A. Mitchell, president, was in the chair.

Members were reminded to bring their donations of jams and jellies for the York County hospital to the October meeting. A donation was forwarded to the Whitchurch Centennial committee to help defray the expenses of the celebration.

A discussion on money raising events was held and it was decided that an afternoon tea and bake sale would be held in October. It was also decided that the ladies would continue sewing layettes for the Red Cross. Mrs. W. E. Richardson is in charge of this project.

Mrs. T. A. Mitchell was appointed delegate to attend the Women's Institute convention, Nov. 1, 2 and 3 at the Royal York hotel, Toronto.

The meeting came to a close with the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Myrtle Brillinger and her group.

COUPLE WED IN MOUNT ALBERT

September 13 was the date of a beautiful wedding when Viola Ida Oldham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Oldham, was united in marriage at her home to Alvin Frederick Dike, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dike, Mount Albert. Rev. C. P. Shapter and Dr. P. Flecher officiated. Mrs. James Oldham was soloist accompanied by Miss Mona Armstrong at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in turquoise blue satin with matching gauntlets and headress of white mums. She carried pink roses and white mums. Shirley Oldham, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and Judith Anne Robertson, niece of the bride was flower girl. They chose copper tan and pale yellow satin, carrying yellow roses, bronze mums and mixed flowers. Morley Case acted as best man.

For the reception the bride's mother received in wine with black accessories, assisted by the groom's sister, Mrs. Jack Case, who chose black with matching accessories.

The bride travelled in a beige suit with dark green accessories. The happy couple will reside in Mount Albert after a short honeymoon.

VISIT WINNIPEG

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Lundy, Newmarket, have just returned from Winnipeg, where Mr. Lundy attended the Canadian Good Roads Convention, as president of the Toronto and York Roads Commission.

ALICE ARNOLD WEDS AT VIVIAN CHURCH

Vivian church was the scene on September 9 of the wedding of Alice Grace Eleanor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Arnold, Silom, and Harold Stanley Sherman Risebrough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Asleton Risebrough, Mount Albert. The church was decorated with baskets of gladioli and asters. Clarion Baker was organist. Rev. Norman Rowan officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore white satin with lace yoke and fingertip veil. Her flowers were white gladioli and red roses. Her sister, Laura, was matron of honor and chose turquoise blue taffeta with a nosegay of pink gladioli and matching headress. She carried roses. Winnifred Skinner was flower girl and wore a white dress with hoop skirt, carrying blue bachelor buttons and red roses. Gerald Emmons was best man and Herbert McOrle and Thomas Bullock were ushers.

The bride's mother received in navy faille with grey accessories, assisted by the groom's mother who chose brown silk jersey with gold accessories.

For travelling the bride wore brown silk flowered dress with brown accessories. After a happy honeymoon in Collingwood and district, the couple will reside in Mount Albert. Guests were present from Kingston and Barrie.

COUPLE TO LIVE IN NEWMARKET

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday, Sept. 2, at three o'clock in St. John's United Church, Tweed, when Olive Edith, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes, Tweed, became the bride of Mr. Robert Colston Wallace, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace, Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. L. Sisco before large baskets of mixed gladioli and fern.

For the blessing, the bride and groom knelt on white satin cushions. Mr. Fred Porter, Thornsbury, played the bridal music and accompanied Mrs. Sharpe, Tweed, who sang "O Promise Me" before the ceremony and "Because" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white brocade satin with net yoke and long sleeves that came to points over the wrists. The hooped skirt was caught up in the front with small bows to show several tiers of lace. The bride wore a white satin "Knight" cap which held her floor length veil of tulle illusion. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls and she carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

Miss Gwen Lynn, niece of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a mauve taffeta gown with net yoke, short sleeves and a slight ruffle to give a bustle effect. Miss Marion Rogers, niece of the groom, and Miss Shirley Lynn, niece of the bride were bridesmaids, wearing yellow and blue taffeta gowns fashioned similarly to that of the maid of honor. The three attendants wore short mitts and flower bandeaus in the same colors as their dresses. They carried nosegays of mixed asters centred with yellow gladioli. Mr. Frank Wallace, brother of the groom, was groomsman. Messrs. Elmer Holmes and Audley Holmes, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was tastefully decorated and held the four tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Holmes, wearing a navy crepe dress, navy accessories and corsage of sweetheart roses, received the guests. She was assisted by Mrs. Wallace who chose a navy figured dress, matching accessories and wore a corsage of sweetheart roses.

For their wedding trip to Eastern Ontario, Quebec and the United States, the bride chose a navy gabardine suit, navy shoes, bag and gloves and pink hat. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses. They will live at 7 Church St., Newmarket.

BREAKS ANKLE

Mr. Robert Patterson, Newmarket, broke his ankle when he slipped on the stairs at the home of his granddaughter on Sunday. He is at present confined to bed.

JR. LADIES' AID MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the Junior Ladies' Aid, Newmarket Christian Baptist church, was held September 12 at the home of Mrs. Sidney Jones, Second St. Devotionals were in the charge of Mrs. C. Wass and Mrs. Wm. Andrews who gave a most interesting talk on Life's Blessings. Reading, Scripture lesson and prayer were by Mrs. Wm. Robinson. Solo was sung by Mrs. Wm. Epworth. The business session was presided over by Mrs. Arthur Kirbyson.

At the close of the evening a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Jones, Mrs. R. Morrison, Mrs. A. Kirbyson, Mrs. C. Wass and Mrs. Orval Smart.

Excessive use of alcohol is fatal for anyone who attempts to live under conditions of excessive heat.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

Sunday, Sept. 24, will be remembered for some time by residents in southern Ontario as the day of the smog. When we set out for Hamilton early in the morning it seemed like any other fall day with the possible exception that it was more than seasonably nippy. We were grateful for the car heater and rug as well as the extra sweater.

The sky was dull and overcast with no patches of blue. After being confined to the house for so many weeks it was wonderful to drive through the countryside. The fields like a patchwork quilt made a beautiful sight, each with a different hue according to the degree of ripeness. Don't you enjoy the panorama of suburban homes, old, established farms and the tree-bordered pasture lands? There are so many lovely elms in these districts. They do not compare with the maples for a show of brilliant color in the fall, but are truly majestic in their spacious setting of open field.

Yes, it was quite an ordinary journey on an ordinary day. It was not until the afternoon, long after the grandparents had viewed their newest grandson and had pronounced him quite acceptable, that there was a gradual change. In Hamilton by 2 o'clock it had taken on the appearance of a summer twilight. The rosy hues called to mind the many sunsets we have enjoyed across Lake Rosseau, but unlike those the soft, somewhat glowing light did not come from the west alone but could be seen from all directions. Gradually lights were turned on in houses; cars passing had to use their headlights and later when we went out to further satisfy our curiosity we were amazed to find that the business establishments had their outdoor night lighting on and they were really needed for by 3:30 it was quite dark.

By then, the sky was a most beautiful mother of pearl shade with what looked like an icing across the dome of pink fluff. It resembled the mushroom formations following atom bomb explosions with which pictorial magazines have familiarized us. As the day went on there was a clearing on the western horizon. It could have been dawn except that it was in the reverse position. There was that cool blending of yellows into aquamarine. (Remember how lovely the dawn was when you brave the early morning hours in hopes of better fishing or did your acquaintance with dawn develop with infant feedings?)

During the course of the afternoon we went up on "the mountain" for a better view of the eerie happenings of whose origin we were then still ignorant. We were quite astounded to be able to see the outline of the buildings in Toronto very clearly in the distance. It was still light over that city and it was like being in a theatre which has been darkened for the movie and watching the lighted screen.

By now we are all quite familiar with the cause of this display of nature's... It was a mighty river of smoke driven by rapid air currents across the continent from the destructive forest fires of Northern Alberta. Apparently the weathermen were able to trace the course taken by the smoke as one could on oil slick on the waters of Lake Simcoe.

GLENNA CREED WED AT ST. ANDREW'S

Rev. R. G. Babcock and Rev. M. E. B. Boudreau solemnized the marriage of Glenna Florence Creed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Creed, and Frederic Clifford Hollidge, son of Mrs. Frederic Hollidge, Vivian, and the late Mr. Hollidge in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Newmarket, on Saturday, Sept. 16.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of fluorescent satin with a sweetheart neckline, matching head-dress and a full-length veil. Carrying a white Bible with pink roses, the bride was attended by her sisters, Mrs. Robert Trinder and Miss Carol Creed. They wore American Beauty and turquoise blue gowns with matching head-dresses and carried nosegays of gladioli and mums.

Kenneth Hollidge, brother of the groom, was best man and Robert Trinder and Gordon McPherson were ushers. Madeline Babcock was littlest attendant by Mary Lou Little at the organ.

For the reception which was held at Gray Stones, Aurora, the bride's mother chose wine with navy accessories, assisted by the groom's mother, who wore navy blue. After a honeymoon spent in Eastern Ontario, the happy couple are residing in Vivian.

SHOWER GLENNA CREED

Over 70 gathered at the home of Mrs. Roy Martin on Wednesday, Sept. 6, to honor Miss Glenna Creed, bride-elect of September 16. The affair took the form of a miscellaneous shower. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Charles Williamson. The honoree was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

IN ST. MICHAEL'S

Mrs. T. A. McCormick, Newmarket, is a patient at St. Michael's hospital, Toronto, where she underwent a serious operation on September 19. She is reported to be progressing favorably.

How an Iron Fireman VORTEX BURNER saves oil

This flat, whirling flame gives more heat with less oil

Ordinary gas-type oil burners enclose the flame in a pit where much of its heat is wasted. Iron Fireman's money-saving Vortex oil burner blankets every inch of heating surface with rich radiant heat. Saves you up to 30% on oil.

3 YEARS TO PAY

CONVERT YOUR OLD FURNACE OR BOILER, OR INSTALL A SELF-FIRING UNIT

Why pay for heat you're not getting? An Iron Fireman Vortex can be installed in your present furnace or boiler in just a few hours—and then watch your fuel bills go down, home comfort go up. Complete self-fired Vortex units are available too. Exclusive Iron Fireman automatic controls. Phone or write this week now, for a FREE survey.

THE HOMEMAKERS

Bake pears for change

Centuries of cultivation have resulted in many varieties of pears and in a greatly lengthened season in which they may be enjoyed. Most of the pears grown in Canada are ready during the main growing season and are rivalled by the more flavorful peaches, plums and grapes as well as their close relative, the apple, which is so easy to ship and store.

Pears, unlike most fruits, are improved in flavor by being picked when still under-ripe and allowed to ripen indoors. The winter varieties, although gathered in the fall, will keep for several months.

D'Anjou, Winter Nelis and Bosc are later varieties which will be found on the market now and through October.

Pears are excellent baked in the same way as apples. Baked pears are a dessert treat which is easily prepared and will be thoroughly enjoyed.

When pears are baked whole with the skin, there is less shrinkage than when they are peeled before baking. The skin contributes to the flavor. Usually, it is better to remove the blossom end but leaving the stem on adds to the appearance of the baked pears.

Peel pears hold their shape and color better if sugar is added during baking. Pears, being mild, may be lightly seasoned with lemon juice, ginger or spices. A few grains of salt will always improve the flavor.

BAKED PEARS NO. 1

6 pears
1 1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
Dash of salt

Place whole unpeeled pears in a deep baking dish. Mix sugar, water and salt and pour over pears. Cover and bake in a moderate oven, 350°, for 60 minutes or until tender, basting twice with the syrup during the baking. Yield: six servings.

BAKED PEARS NO. 2

6 pears
1/2 cup molasses
1/2 cup water
Juice of 1/2 lemon

Peel, quarter and core pears; place in a casserole dish. Combine molasses, water and lemon juice and add to pears. Cover and bake in a moderate oven, 350°, until tender, about 45 minutes. Serve cold. Yield: six servings.

BAKED PEARS NO. 3

6 pears
3 tbsp. brown sugar
1/2 cup water
Thinly shaved rind of 1/2 lemon

Wash and core pears; place in a casserole dish and fill centres with brown sugar. Add water and lemon rind; bake in a moderate oven, 350°, until tender, 50 to 60 minutes, basting twice with syrup during cooking. Remove lemon rind before serving hot or cold. Yield: six servings.

BAKED PEARS NO. 4

6 pears
1/2 cup chopped candied ginger or raisins
1 tbsp. lemon juice
2 tbsp. sugar
1/2 cup boiling water

Wash and core pears. Place in a casserole dish, fill centres with ginger or raisins and pour lemon juice over fruit. Dissolve sugar in boiling water, pour around pears and bake in a moderate oven, 350°, until tender, about 50 to 60 minutes, basting twice with syrup during cooking. Serve hot or cold. Yield: six servings.

Needlecraft News

by Pauline Roy

If you can wield needle and thread or follow simple directions, then you can brighten up your home with your own hands this season. You'll find it economical to do your own redecorating—and what's more, it's loads of fun.

Windows are taking on new importance. A few years back the fireplace or credenza was the focal point of our rooms. But suddenly windows have sprung into prominence with the advent of the overhead picture window. If you're lucky enough to have a picturesque view supplied by Nature, then you need not work too hard at beautifying your windows. But if the view is not all it should be, you can help it along by adding new sparkle and life to your window treatment.

If you have problem windows perhaps these few tips on how to handle them will help out. Many homes have long narrow windows over the buffet or in the hall. Usually these windows are not large enough for regular curtaining. If you like green touches in your rooms you can invert a cornice board and use it at the window sill making a smartly enclosed shelf. Then you can add a profusion of ivy or philodendron. Many homemakers have the distressing problem of a large radiator beneath a window. To remedy this condition you can extend your drapery rods past the sides of the window frames thus eliminating the problem of drapes hanging down on the radiator. Sometimes by simply shifting the position of your radiator you can manage to gracefully sweep the drapery clear of the radiator.

Most homemakers like to place a table and lamp in front of their large windows. Even with modern decorating you will still find a lamp before the window. There's nothing warmer or cozier looking than the glow of a light from a window. It glows with a cheery welcome for all. If your housecleaning included a thorough polishing of your tables, you'll want to protect their shining surfaces from scratches. But at the same time you won't want to detract from their beauty. Here's just the answer for that important table near the front window—a frothy, frilly doily designed to complement your favorite vase or bowl and to contrast against a dark mahogany or walnut table. If your furniture tends more towards the modern and has a light finish, crochet it in pale or bright blue, pink, mauve, yellow, light green or bright green. Directions for crocheting this FRILLY DOILY are available if you will send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlecraft Dept. of this paper requesting Leaflet No. D 122.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

AFTER SEVEN YEARS

After seven long years, I wakened one morning—no, I wasn't a modern Rip Van Winkle, I hadn't slept all those years—to the fact that we were going to the C.N.E.!

The morning was one of those Canadian summer mornings that seem to be made from golden sunshine, scent of clover and the promise of winter bounty.

I went about the house in sort of a daze, giving myself last minute instructions—look at the stove three times and then have Archie check it too, leave lots of food for the cats, who, knowing something was afoot, were also afoot between my feet, and lastly look at said feet—my own—as I was recently asked by the other half of the family if I really wanted to go to town in my bedroom slippers.

However, even beforehand, jitters must have an end and at 7.15 we were sitting in the porch waiting for our friends and when they arrived we tumbled into their car and I felt that although yesterday might have had its worries and no one could tell about tomorrow, today held only joy.

A drive through Toronto in the early morning always intrigues me—the crowded street cars and buses and private cars, all with drivers with the same somewhat strained look—their eyes sharpened from gauging distances and their noses lengthened from pointing straight forward.

When we drove into the grounds and found a place, Mr. and Mrs. Evans went one way, we another. We went first of all to see the flowers. I could have stayed there all day, just wandering round admiring the wonderful arrangements, forgetting there was a world outside and just living in a floral fairland. Here too we saw the cages of rare birds and the other half of the family had literally to tear me away from them, for they were having such a glorious time, swinging, ringing bells, climbing and even having little spats. One bird intrigued me especially, it was slender and dark, but it had a brilliant orange ruff round its tiny neck—lovely! I bought some plant food from the Holland people and the girl who sold it to me said it was fine for African violets. I wondered then—I wonder still, if I had African violets written on me. I have five plants which are the picture of health. But will they bloom? No! If they bloom now, the credit will go to the plant food.

What a display Britain had. It opened one's eyes to the beautiful materials it is producing. They seem to be competing in every line of goods. We bought some ginger marmalade made in Scotland, which is the last word for those who love that delicacy. I felt too I'd like to go off and have a highland costume made for me of those lovely tartans if it were only for a chance to wear the wonderful shoulder jewel of which there was such a variety.

After a good rest in the car, we went on the grandstand for the afternoon performance. Like everyone else, some things I enjoyed—some I did not. The aerialists and the hell drivers were wonderful in their respective ways, I suppose, but I always feel guilty when I watch them, for it seems to me they are risking their lives only to give me—us—a thrill.

The trained dogs were dears, so small and quick and alert and funny, they even did a little drill, which I had never seen before. The three huge bears were amazing, riding bicycles, wheeling one another, even riding a tandem while the band played Daisy Daisy.

But when the horses and their riders came on, I was content. There is something about the round smoothness of a circus horse that's so satisfying! A car driver, be he never so skillful is driving a thing—something of steel and motors and wonderful gadgets, but it has no life of its own, whereas a horse is alive and intelligent and beautiful. The horses had been quietly feeding on a bit of grass beside the stage and they looked nice and well cared for—just horses, but when they came into the ring, they were as proud of their act as their riders—they were a living, breathing part of it, whereas the cars used in the hell drivers' act, also rested beside the road, but they were inanimate things. Granted they did wonders, but they didn't help their drivers.

Seeing those horses with their skillful riders, we understood somewhat how the old myth of centaurs originated—while the act was on horses and riders were an entity.

YOUNG HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Poor speech made a rebel

Ronny, ten years old, has never been a good student; but lately he has become a disciplinary problem.

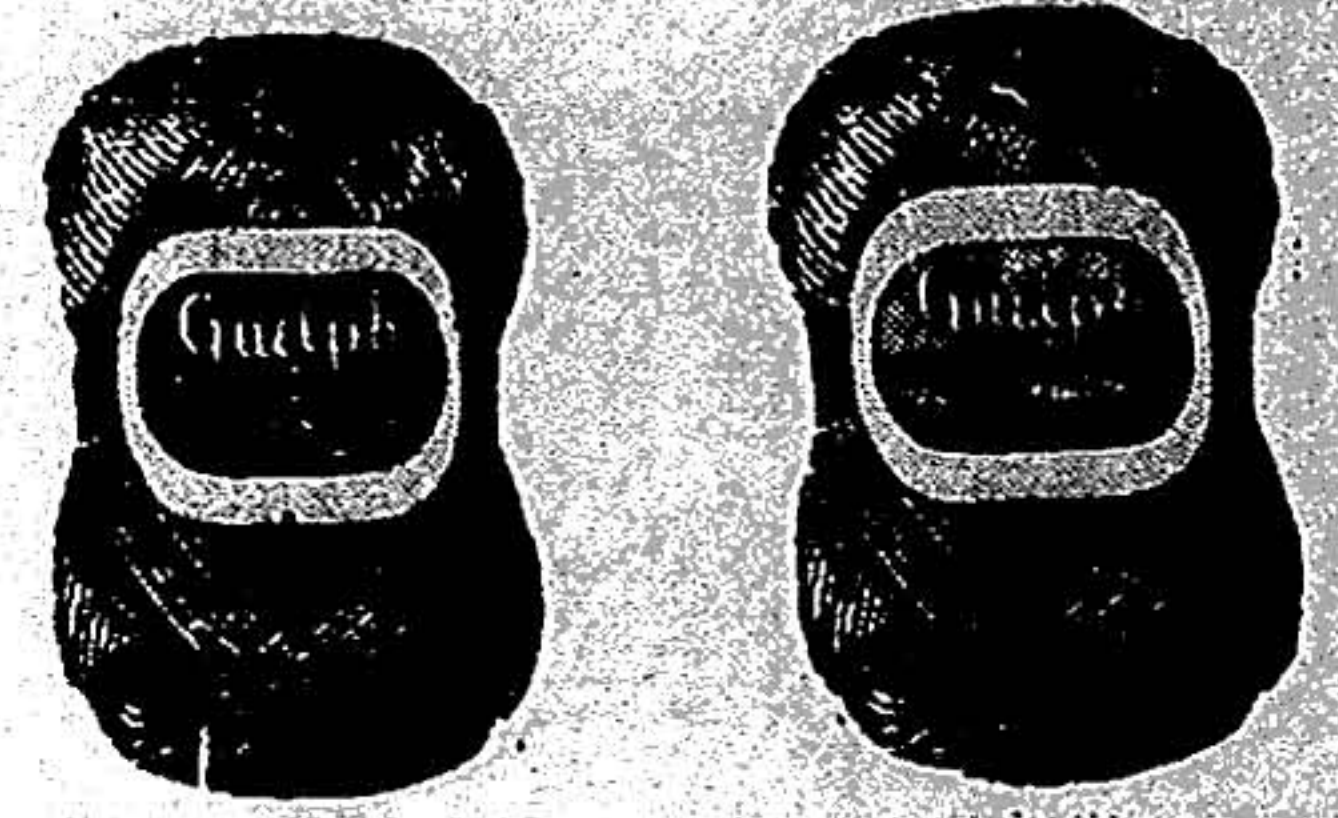

Ronny refuses to cooperate with anyone about anything. He has become anti-social. He doesn't choose to try to get along with anyone. He avoids contacts with others every chance he gets. Even on the playground, he stays very much to himself. Some days he plays truant and hides during school hours. He has been discovered under a culvert or in some bushes, but he is usually in hiding on his own premises and in-doors, in the basement or in a dark closet. He is always alone.

In trying to arrive at a solution to Ronny's anti-social behavior, his parents and his teacher introduced him to a stranger, who was accustomed to finding answers for disciplinary problems. For what seemed an eternity to Ronny, there was a conference in his presence. For the first time in his life, Ronny wasn't asked to give an account of himself. He was just in the room hearing adults discuss various instances in his life which had baffled them. Then there were questions such as "Why would a boy like Ronny rather hide in a closet than go to school?" To each and every question there was an explanation why Jimmy or Johnny had done exactly the same thing rather than go to some other school.

Eventually Ronny's interest in Jimmy and Johnny became acute enough for him to ask a question about them. Their experiences were continued and Ronny had several questions to ask. The leading question he asked was: "Could they talk like the other boys and girls?"

Although Ronny had never admitted it to anyone, he felt isolated because the other children made fun of his speech. That made him different until he learned about Jimmy and Johnny.

They discovered Aluminum!

AN "INSIDE STORY"

1900—It wasn't only Grandma's cooking that drew the crowds. She had the first aluminum saucepan in town! In many other Canadian homes, too, this was the beginning of a bright, new era of better cooking utensils.

1925—When mother got married, she already knew how to enjoy life with aluminum. She brewed Dad's coffee in an aluminum pot... cooked those big family meals more easily in quick, even-heating aluminum.

1950—Today, daughter's kitchen belongs to the "aluminum age". She enjoys a larger selection of aluminum utensils. This "food-friendly" metal also protects the flavour, quality and purity of the foods she buys.

HINTS TO THE HOUSEWIFE

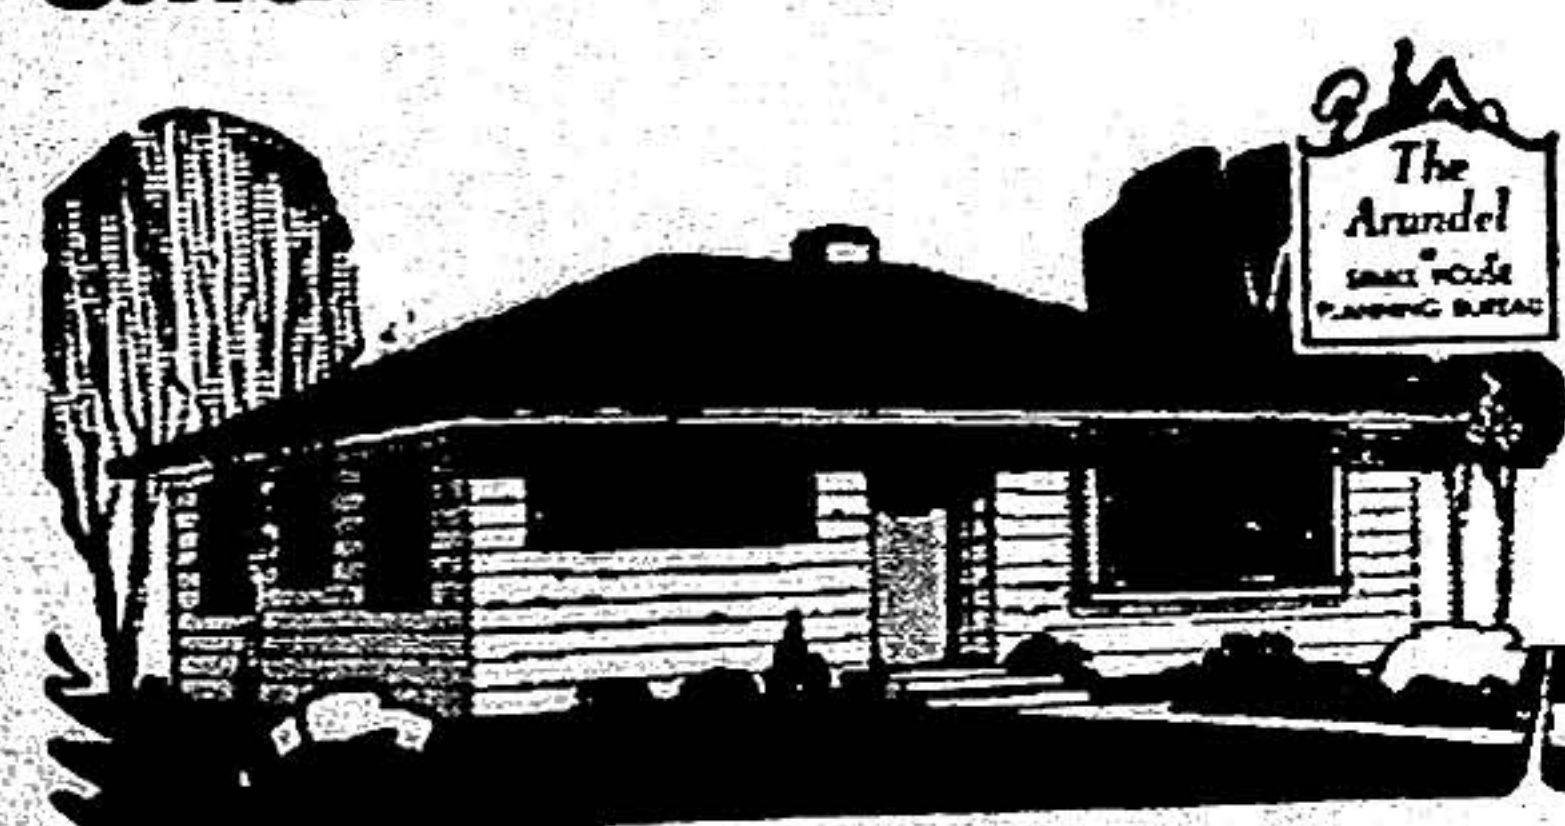

Whenever you see aluminum on the outside of a food or a drink, there's an "inside story" of cleanliness and purity.

Aluminum steams clean easily. To remove natural deposits left by foods and water, use a tablespoon of vinegar in boiling water.

Small House Plans ..

THE ARUNDEL uses the utility room to solve a problem that comes about in basementless houses—that of finding more storage space on first floor. In this utility room, there are two closets, two feet deep and extending to the ceiling, along one wall, and a 16" deep cabinet 5' 4" from the floor but reaching the ceiling along the other wall.

In addition there is a large storage closet in the dinette, wardrobes in the rear bedrooms, a walk-in closet in the front bedroom, a linen cabinet, and a closet in the vestibule.

The first floor slab rests on a gravel fill and can be covered with a choice of linoleum, asphalt tiles, or carpets. High windows in the front bedroom are designed to add wall space and the picture window projects to form a ledge. The exterior finish is planned to be of siding and asphalt shingles.

The called-for dimensions of the Arundel are 36' by 28'. The floor area is 1,116 sq. ft. And the cubage is estimated at 13,950 cubic feet.

Newmarket, England Prepares for defence

The receipt of instructions on civil defence in Newmarket last week coincided with the arrival of a copy of the Newmarket, England, Journal with a front page story on the same subject.

Sixteen Newmarket, England, citizens had enrolled for training as instructors from Newmarket, England, and district. The Journal says:

"Classes will be held in the Fitzroy Street Rooms and the course, which covers 37 hours instruction, will be completed about the 27th October.

"These potential instructors will be examined by a written paper and also orally and all those successful will be presented with a certificate from the Home Office.

"Instruction covers training in atomic, chemical and biological warfare as well as fire fighting, high explosive missiles and protective measures generally against the hazards of war.

"These instructors, after qualifying, will become available to train part time members of the Corps. It is hoped that the enrolment of part time members will rise in sufficient numbers to enable these instructors to form classes for training in November."

During the second great war, Newmarket, England, was spared the bombing raids but one hit and run attack by a low-flying aircraft caused a casualty list which in its proportion to Newmarket's population, gave that centre a higher casualty total than that for London.

Weekend snow, slow time, smog

First snow fell in the district on Saturday, Newmarket went on slow time on Sunday, and on Monday, the sun was a pale green or mauve, depending upon the fancy of those who observed the phenomena. Just possibly, there may be a relation between these three events but so far, searching enquiry has failed to reveal it.

The snowfall lasted an hour in Schomberg, lightly touched Aurora, and was casually hinted at in Newmarket. The snow is generally explained by the temperature which was unseasonably low.

The decision to return to slow time in Newmarket, as far as can be ascertained, was not influenced by a supernatural phenomena. The council simply consulted industries and others who might have a stake in the choice of fast or slow time, and then decided according to the will of the majority.

The decision has not been without its complications. Commuters are leaving Toronto, which has remained on fast time, and arriving in Newmarket at the same hour. Gray Coach service continues to run on daylight saving time, but a special school bus is picking up the pupils from the north at a more reasonable hour. Local lines are running on standard time.

RAVENSHOE

The anniversary of the United church was well attended on Sunday. Everyone enjoyed the children's choir in the morning and the solo by Mrs. Ken Hunter. In the evening the Queensville quartet sang two numbers and Mr. Murray Huntley favored us with a solo which was much enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Sheppard, Keswick, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bray.

Mrs. Blanchard, Newmarket, Mrs. Lapp, Toronto, and Miss Mary Terry, Uxbridge, have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson, Willowdale, attended the anniversary services on Sunday and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. King for dinner and Mr. and Mrs. S. Armstrong for supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamilton, Markham, visited Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hamilton on Sunday and attended the anniversary service.

Miss P. Stevens, Hamilton, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pollard for the weekend.

The radio business is in something of a quandry over the patchwork of fast and slow times. Radio schedules are on standard time but announcers in Toronto persist in giving daylight saving times so that lunches were made an hour earlier in some homes on Monday.

Sun's Color a Climax

Though the switch to standard time and the untimely appearance of snow were exasperating in their way, the color of the sun on Monday was, for many, the climax of a bewildering weekend. The skies on Sunday might have forewarned us of something unusual for Monday. Clouds were of several new colors and the sun was out of sight entirely.

Toronto was so dark that street lights were turned on early in the day.

But it was all explained by the weather experts. The cause was smoke from the bush and swamp fires in northern Alberta and British Columbia. A "river of air" carried the smoke at a rate of 50 to 100 miles an hour across western Canada to Hudson's Bay, and from there, south over the Great Lakes. It covered this area on Sunday and Monday, and late Monday night, was reported to have reached Washington and New York.

The explanation was not convincing enough for some. Police and radio stations were swamped with calls enquiring if there had been a bombing attack.

PINE ORCHARD

Special church services are to be held in the Union church on Sunday, Oct. 1. Two services are to be held, one at 11 a.m. with Rev. Dr. C. J. L. Bates of Toronto as guest minister. Dr. Bates was a missionary in Japan for 41 years. He was president of one of the leading Christian universities. Special music by Temperanceville United church choir under leadership of Miss L. Atkinson.

At the evening service at 7.30 o'clock Rev. R. E. M. Boudreau of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Newmarket, will be guest minister and Mr. Charles Boyd of Newmarket will be guest soloist.

A cordial invitation is extended to everybody to attend these anniversary services and celebrate 145 years of worship in Pine Orchard.

On Monday evening, Oct. 2, the annual congregational supper will be held at church followed by annual meeting. Important decisions are to be brought before the members, also election of officers.

BROWN HILL

There will be church service and Sunday-school next Sunday. Rev. Casement extends a welcome to all. Sunday-school is so interesting the children want Sunday-school every day and the attendance is steadily growing.

We are sorry to learn Mrs. Sargeant has been ill. Mrs. Sargeant has a complete line of cards for all occasions along with all the trimmings for gift packages. Oh yes, and if you are trying to locate that special gift, Mrs. Sargeant has beautiful habitant crocheting and doilies. Both Mr. and Mrs. Sargeant have been unable to do heavy work so this is their way of making a little pin money.

Brown Hill was sorry to learn that Mr. Henry Nelson is in hospital and wish him a speedy recovery.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Amos York who will be celebrating their wedding anniversary October 5. Brown Hill and all who know this fine couple wish them much happiness and good wishes for many more anniversaries.

Mr. Kenneth Williamson and Mr. Clarence Nelson are the lucky chaps as they have been having their holidays. Sorry the weather wasn't more favorable for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Crisetti visited Toronto last Thursday along with Mr. and Mrs. Alexander. The Crisettis will soon be having the hydro turned on.

Mr. John Crouch has been ill again. Mr. and Mrs. C. Corps have both gone north to Mr. Corps' new position as teacher for the C.P.R.

Mrs. Alice McNiece is helping out by helping take care of Mrs. David Hillis who has been quite ill for some time, but is her usual smiling self again.

Most kitchens have the delicious aroma of pickles and relishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crouch and Arthur visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Mitchell at Roche's Point last Sunday.

Where did Sam and Eva Ryan, the newlyweds, stay? We had planned a real chivari for this couple. Reports have it that there was a big shower for Mr. and Mrs. Ryan last Friday.

HOPE

AURORA KEEPS NORTH YORK TENNIS TITLE

For a second time since their North York Tennis League finals commenced, Newmarket and Aurora won the same number of contests. Last Wednesday's display of previous matches found each team had won four contests, dividing the ladies, men's and mixed doubles. They decided to resort to a tally of games won in the tournament to declare a winner and arrived at a total of 61 victories for Aurora against 54 for Newmarket, so Aurora retained its North York championship and the Bob Yates Trophy for another term.

Results with Newmarket players named first were as follows: Ladies' doubles: Mary Dales and Margaret Davis were defeated by Connie Willis and Ruth Corner, 0-6, 2-6; Joyce Bothwell and Joan Peppiatt defeated Jill Holden and Betty Boulding 6-3, 6-2; Men's doubles: Keith Davis and Chas. Lee defeated Keith Nisbel and Stan Walker, 6-2, 6-0, 6-1; Jack Peppiatt and Ken Peavey were defeated by Frank Wims and Pat Davies, 0-6, 7-9; Mixed doubles: Keith Davis and Joan Peppiatt defeated Connie Willis and Keith Nisbel, 6-3; Joyce Bothwell and Bob Yates were defeated by Jill Holden and Stan Walker, 3-6; Margaret Davis and Chas. Lee defeated Betty Boulding and Pat Davies, 6-3; Mary Dales and Jack Peppiatt were defeated by RRuth Corner and Frank Wims, 0-6.

Harford Wardell, president of the Hope club, and responded to by league president Ross Chapman.

Short speeches were given by Stewart Stickwood, vice president of Hope club, Herb Tansley and Archie Dike, secretary of the Lake Simcoe league. Following the banquet, VanZant's orchestra provided music for dancing at which the public was welcome.

The occasion was a happy one and while Hope team wasn't winner, its fans were proud of its sportsmanship.

Haskett's HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

Well, it seems we're not alone. Couple of guys buzzed us first of the week to say they're Trolley League supporters. Like the idea of using as many of our own skaters as possible and short travelling hops.

Prexy Hines, ticked off for a saw Bradford and Alliston gutted stick winder-uppers step onto Alliston arena's mastic floor what a game lacrosse could be. It must have been twice as fast as a game on a dirt floor. Bounces were accurate, the passing more accurate—in fact didn't look like the same game. Close to 2,000 have taken in the three final games to date. The fifth game of the knock-em-down-drag-em series continues at Bradford Saturday p.m.

Frank Hollingsworth buzzed in with the information Newmarket Optimists pee-wees are in the semi-finals. They'll tackle Tillsonburg here Saturday afternoon, 3.15 standard, in the first game of the semi-return to Tillsonburg a week Saturday. Two other teams remain in the running, Petrolia and Wingham, and one of these hang up their cleats this week. Now kiddies, poppas and mommas, how about a trip to S.S. pastures to give our kids your vocal and financial support? Don't ever recall Newmarket winning an Ontario ball crown. Maybe, just maybe, this could be our year.

As yet advice hasn't been forthcoming on Optimists bantams' next opposition. Tainworth dropped out last week allowing our gang to step into the role of Eastern Ontario champions.

Simcoe league settles Final business Oct. 6

So that they can put the final touches on the Lake Simcoe Softball League season, the executive and delegates are asked to report to Ross Chapman's residence on Friday, Oct. 6, at 8 p.m. standard time.

Elgin Mills awarded York Centre Trophy

The York Centre Ladies' Softball League challenge trophy, unveiled for the first time this season, has been awarded to Elgin Mills. That's the decision arrived at by a league executive gathering held Monday in Aurora. The executive based its decision on the fact that ball season was fast drawing to a close and also because Elgin Mills was leading the final series over Aurora in the matter of games won.

The finals, originally booked as a best three-out-of-five set, developed into a long drawn out affair owing to numerous postponements from wet weather and late starts. Elgin Mills led the league throughout and staked its main claim to the crown by virtue of five one-run wins over Aurora "Harts" ladies during regular league play and in the finals.

Collis Aurora Champs Defeat Harts 14-7

Collis Leather blotted Harts 14-7 in an Aurora town league contest to wrap up Aurora town league championship in two straight heats. The hitters blasted both "Red" Castle on the Tannery hill and Ed Aylett with Harts though honors went to the Tannery tosser by a 12-10 margin when the final hit statistics were counted.

The Tanners boasted three round-trippers, one each by Geo. Hodgins, Ray White and Ron Brown. Hodgins, realizing a ball player's dream, had a four-baser when the sacks populated. Dick Hadath pumped out two to provide the main extra base blows for Harts.

The Tanners blasted early, recording six runs in round one, and were never headed. Harts pulled back to within three of a tie in the fifth with the score at 9-6. Then the Tanners again opened the floodgates in the bottom of the fifth with a five-run assault in which Geo. Hodgins

Lloyd Balsdon high In Sharon Calf Club

Sharon calf club had its annual achievement day at Newmarket high school last Thursday. Emerson Jennings, assistant agricultural representative for Ontario county, was judge for the regular classes and the showmanship. Heading up the Holstein class was Bill Taylor, followed by Bernard Taylor, Ronald Trebble, David Crone, Alan Peters and Gerald Porter. The Guernsey and Jersey classes each had one entry, Lloyd Balsdon and Jim Morton. Two boys, Ronald Pottage and Tim Hewlett, competed with Shorthorn calves and Ronald won.

In showmanship, where the boys are judged on how well their calves have been fitted and the manner in which they show them, Lloyd Balsdon was high, followed in order by David Crone, Jim Morton and Bill Taylor.

The final standing for the year's work has been announced with total marks awarded on the following basis: 400 points for calf; 100 points each for showmanship; a written examination; a judging competition; monthly feed reports; car and management on monthly inspections; attendance and interest at meetings. In first place was Lloyd Balsdon, Sharon, with 962 points out of 1,000, followed by Bill Taylor, Sharon (925); Jim Morton, Queensville (916); Alan Peters, Keswick (900); Bernard Taylor, Sharon (882); Jim Hewlett, Stouffville (885); David Crone, Mount Albert (876); Ronald Trebble, Sharon (873); Ronald Trebble, Newmarket (870), and Gerald Porter, Roche's Point (784).

The Sharon Calf club is sponsored by the Sharon Junior Farmers and the Newmarket Lions club in co-operation with the department of agriculture. The club will resume next year and if anyone is interested in taking part in this education work they should contact W. M. Cockburn at the department of agriculture, Newmarket.

Bradford on spot Alliston one up in finals

Bradford and Alliston are in the grip of lacrosse play-off fever. After taking game one of the four in seven set, Bradford saw its hopes of annexing intermediate C.O.A. crown go tumbling over the past week. Alliston made a quick recovery to score a pair of wins, last Wednesday 12-6 and Saturday night 7-6.

Both teams will lead with their aces tonight, Bowen vs Hall, as the fate of Joe Spillette Trophy is decided.

In both outings, Clary Payne's sharpshooting worked the magic for Alliston. Saturday, Payne fired three goals by Ted Bulpit in Bradford cage to give Alliston the edge.

Both teams scrapped on even terms in all but the third period, Alliston nailing down the win with two goals without Bradford getting in a return lick.

Harold Gwyn, Newmarket's gift to the Celery Kings, was the marksman with Bradford with two, closely chased by Bruce Collings with a goal and an assist. The series resumes in Bradford rink Saturday evening and it's a must if Bradford hopes to stay in the hunt.

Appears the time fast is approaching for your pin boy to stow his baseball strike ledger in favor of a few strikes the early birds are racking up on the alleys. Both the North End Alleys, piloted by Howard Brown, and Joe Smith's are winging. What you say we break out this first column with a few of league officers and a smattering of early season scores?

Town Ladies' League, the Monday nighters, opened Monday. Officers for this season are pres., Elsie Cline; treas., Emma Broadbent; rec. sec., Edith Hall; and back for a return engagement as secretary is Floss Campbell. It's a six team league and we're not ready to accept any responsibility for these names, they're the ladies' own creations, but here goes: Wizards, captain Claire Pollock; Peeps (ouch) Marian Stark; Cubs, Phil McNinis; Spark Plugs, "Sparky" Clark; Femmes, Floss Campbell; and Dubs (oh oh), Edna McGrath. Wizards swept the Peeps out of building Monday to record a 4-0 win, Cubs and Femmes nailed down three points against one each by the Spark Plugs and Dubs. Floss Gibson showed a lot of early season form to string a 623 (264-148-211). The president, Elsie Cline, was a going concern recording 559 followed by Hester Clark 540, Phil McNinis 532, Hazel Bowser 522, Mary Austin

SIMCOE GIRLS' SERIES TIGHT PLAY FRIDAY

After winning the first pair of games for the Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies League crown, Mount Albert must win in Sutton Friday to stay in. Monday night, for a third time since the best of seven series opened, Mount Albert lost a one-run decision as Sutton squeezed through a 6-5 win.

Mount Albert climbed into a 3-0 advantage in the first innings but saw this rubbed out as Sutton planted their first seeds of victory with four runs in third and tacked on another pair in the fifth. Trailing 6-3 going into the last of the seventh, Mount Albert made a determined bid to square accounts with a two-run rally but fell one short of the equalizer.

It was a pitchers' duel with Mary Jean Sinclair, Sutton, shading Marguerite Green. Sutton collected five safeties with Ruth Dunn, Mary Jean Sinclair, Lila Crowder, Pat Troyer and Dorothy Oliver sharing the booty. Kathy Diceman with two, Gladys Rolling and Ida Bertolin gathered in the Mount hits.

Gladys Rolling, coach and manager of Mount Albert, reports Mount will be without Gertrude Harrison for the balance of the series. Miss Harrison, after giving out with a plucky display behind the plate Friday, was rushed to Newmarket hospital for an appendicitis operation. She's coming along very nicely thank you.

On Friday, Sutton ladies cashed in a successful five run sixth innings to rate a 7-6 decision over the Mounties to square the series at two games each. It was 2-2 after two frames as the teams traded runs in the opening innings. Mount Albert jumped ahead in the third as Gert Harrison's single scooted Ruth Simpson across with the tie breaker. The Mounties made it 4-2 on Marguerite Green's single and an error in the fifth. Then came disaster for the Mounties as Sutton made their big strike with the score-keeper with a five-run sixth. Mount Albert rallied in the seventh for a pair of runs but fell one short of tying it.

Marguerite Green was assessed with allowing Sutton 7 hits but was the main show in the Mount hitting, accounting for half her team's total of six hits. Mary Quinn and Lila Crowder carried the main hit burden for Sutton with three hits each.

Clippers, $men start work

Fall freescos: Markham Millionaires and Stouffville Clippers both took to the ice on Sunday for initial practices and confusion about playing strength still remains. Both clubs will huddle with George Panter this week, hoping that the oracle of the O.H.A. will make some pronouncement for the benefit of the players who haven't made up their minds about where they wish to play.

Markham has come up with a real surprise with the election of a brand new executive and the choice of Max Reesor as coach. Reesor, who has been refereeing the past 20 years, will stick to the master-minding job. Bill Conlin is manager, Jack Torrance president and Johnny Wagg, the man behind the scenes last year, is back on the job.

The Millionaires took to the blades at Oshawa and most of the last year's team were back for the initial workout including Normie Stunden, Jackie Watson, Bert Baker and the rest who were looking at the Clippers' set-up. Clippers had Jack Harper, Bill Bradbury, Gordie Lewis, Polly Minton, Bill Hopper and Sayliss out, and Les Clarke, Herbie Rose, Ed Couch, Thomas and Drummond were accounted for.

Bob Bangay was joined by George Stark and "Mooney" Gibson, Storey and Rutledge who played in the Maritimes last winter. There were a host of others and some of last season's players are wondering if they can make the team if the newcomers stick. There'll be a lot of new faces on view in the next few weeks before the pruning hook is grabbed by Bangay. Don Campbell, former Stouffville junior who signed with Aurora last winter but didn't play, was in attendance and looked mighty good for a start. With the entire Metropolitan area to draw from, there won't be any player shortage.

Neither Stouffville or Markham will oppose Newmarket being included in the Metro boundaries if the Canaltown boys so desire. The problem would be to keep intermediate A rating as they desire. Players outside the Metropolitan area will have to be allowed to play for any team within the boundaries.

Stouffville, incidentally, was all agog on Sunday with the success of Stouffville Beavers in the O.B.A. race. On Saturday they

Herb Cain named Coach for Aurora Look for big year

Herb Cain has been signed as coach for the Aurora Juniors, it was announced this morning following an executive meeting last night. He will assume his coaching duties right away.

"It's a great break for Aurora," said manager Jim Wall. "And the club will back Herb all the way. Aurora is really out for a championship team this year, and with Herb as coach, I know we are going to have a successful season."

The move was not entirely a surprise. There had been some talk earlier that Cain had coaching offers and that the decision lay between Brampton and Aurora. One of the longest lived players in professional leagues, Cain broke into hockey in a big way with the Newmarket Juniors in the early 30's, and played with Newmarket against the Marlboros in the finals.

He played senior hockey with the Hamilton Tigers and later with both the Montreal Maroons and the Canadiens, and the Boston Bruins in the National League. Lately, he has been playing for Hershey Bears in the American League.

He can look back on a successful career which saw him make the record for the number of points scored by a National League player, and win appointment to a National League 'All-Star' team.

His athletic activities are not confined to hockey. He has a reputation in golfing and softball.

Born in Newmarket, he was educated here and learned his hockey in town leagues before going into the junior hockey that started his career.

Aurora juniors of last year climbed to the finals before losing to Collingwood.

Newmarket archers Open course Sunday

Given the proper co-operation from the weatherman, Sunday, Oct. 1, should be a big day for the Newmarket Archers. On that day they'll conduct the opening ceremonies for their new field course at Glenville. The club members stress that they are anxious to have as many visitors attend as possible.

The course has been set out on the main road through Glenville and will be adequately marked to direct visitors. Guests from Oshawa, Long Branch, Hamilton and Toronto Archery clubs will be on hand for the various contests that are to be conducted in connection with the opening day. These contests are expected to last through until 4 or 4.30 in the afternoon.

Everyone is welcome to attend, and should you care to try your hand at shooting, plenty of bows and arrows will be available.

The junior hockey club executive, bent on providing Newmarket with a top notch junior team, met again this week to complete plans for the season. Added to the executive committee were Art Evans, Agn West, Ken Howard, John Victor, Seneca Cook, Dr. G. M. Peever and Jim Walker. Coach Joe Peat reported to the Monday gathering that several more players have approached him about trying out with the team.

The club plans a monster dance in the arena on Friday, Oct. 6, with two bands, one providing modern and one old time music. Full plans and names of the bands will be available next week. President Frank Johnson reports "we have our sleeves rolled up and are out to give Newmarket a junior hockey club and are hoping all the fans will support us in our efforts".

A salute to the following gents who made a trip to Toronto recently to donate blood to the Toronto General Blood Bank to replace the plasma given to Bill Wilkinson: Bill McGhee, Paul Maguire, Loring Doolittle, Ralph Tucker, Bud Barrager, John McGhee, Ray Cartier, Ivan Anderson, Bert Groves, Tommy Brodie, Duncan Strang and Archie Monkman. McGhee, Maguire, Doolittle and Brodie were all teammates of "Wilkie", Tucker and Barrager are trustees of The Wilkie Fund, and the other lads are fellow employees from the Ontario hospital.

The fund is still open for contributions and there isn't a nickel of expenses to come out of the fund. The transportation for the blood donors was provided free of charge. In his grim fight, Wilkinson is showing the same intestinal fortitude he displayed on the ice in every game he played and shortly he'll be moved to Lyndhurst Lodge for the training given paraplegics. The response to the first appeal by the committee was mighty fine, but there's a lot of people who still have to come through with "their bit".

Remember, it could happen to any of us, that every cent will cent will go to Bill or be used for purchasing articles he needs on his long fight for rehabilitation.

Agincoourt ladies, who were given the closest battles by Newmarket ladies, have won the P.W.S.U. intermediate B championship and pitcher Marian Fox, despite a leg injury, was the shining star throughout the long grind. "Gaffer" VanZant and his gallant gals have been in the bridesmaid class too long, but luck is bound to change. Newmarket has some really promising players coming up from the minor series and it will be the best of the best.
